THIRTEEN years and out! That's one way to look at a high school graduation, but for many it signifies merely an interlude before they move on to college. For others it becomes an immediate transition into the work world. Many of Belleville's 500 graduates and Romulus' 280 seniors will be thinking such thoughts as they receive their diplomas — Page A-3.

Two to be elected to school board

Voters to determine fate of tax renewal, increase

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Roman Staff Writer

Voters in the Romulus Community School Districts will have a least one new face on the seven-member Romulus Board of Education.

Hulen Yates, long-time board member, is not seeking reelection Monday's ballot, which will see two persons elected to 4-year terms on the board in addition to a request for a total of 10 mills in tax renewals and 5 mills in tax increases.

Seeking reelection to the board is incumbent Jack Bath. Also seeking election are newcomers Jon James Justice Jr., Shirley Lombardi, LaVerne McGee, Marie W. Moomaw, Lynne M. Slaughter and

The increase is needed to compensate for the loss in revenue...caused by the single business tax—Supt. James Garfield

Daniel F. Thorpe.

The two tax questions include a request for a 10-mill renewal to keep intact the district's current 27.65 operating millage.

The renewal proposal is to continue levying the 10 mills for a 10-year period.

Coupled with the renewal is a 5-mill increase proposition to run for four years. The hike represents an additional $5 for every $1,000 of assessed valuation.

The increase is needed, according to Supt. James Garfield, to compensate for the loss in revenue to the district that occurred following adoption of the Michigan single business tax.

Under the new tax system, personal property is not considered as taxable property. The change eliminates such items as materials stored in warehouses from consideration for property tax computations, and cuts heavily into Romulus' total tax "take".

The 5-mill tax increase is to raise over $1 million to compensate for better than $700,000 in losses due to the decrease in each mill's "value" in the district and to cover some $300,000 in increased costs.

Despite the tax increase request, the district is still eyeing cost-saving measures including the closing of two of the district's oldest elementary school buildings and keeping a tight rein on new spending during the next school year.

District millage campaigners have been working on a "low key" basis in an effort to win support for the millage without employing "scare tactics" such as citing cuts which must be made in the curriculum and services if the millage is not approved by the voters.

Polls will open at 8 a.m. and remain open until 8 p.m. Monday with a relatively low turn out expected.

Nabbed in Melvindale

Suspects' arrest may clear robberies here

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Roman Staff Writer

Officers of three area police departments, including the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol, believe the arrest of two armed robbery suspects in Melvindale may have "cleared" the police blotter of nearly 20 armed robberies in Western Wayne County last month.

According to Det. Larry Patterson of the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol, county officers are of the opinion that Dennis Holt, 24, and George Hammock, 22, both of Inkster, may have been involved in seven robberies in Romulus, two more in Wayne and seven in Inkster.

Patterson said he and his partner, David Hargreaves, believe the two were involved in seven armed robberies of businesses that stay open late at night because the method of operation in those cases is similar to the one in Melvindale, which led to the suspects' arrest.

Both men were apprehended the night of May 29 as they drove away from a food market in Melvindale. A passing scout car had by chance spotted the owner of the store throwing a bottle at the car as it left his parking lot following the robbery. No one was hurt in the incident.

According to Patterson, the two are accused of robbing a business between 11 p.m. and midnight, with the driver of the get-away car first checking the establishment to see if it could be robbed, and then the passenger robbing the owner at gunpoint while the driver waited in the car.

The two are suspected of taking better than $1,500 in the robberies of three gasoline stations and four markets in the city.

They also are believed to be involved in an attempted armed robbery of a Romulus grocery store May 29—the same night they were apprehended during an alleged attempt to rob the Melvindale store.

"We got information through the Melvindale police that the two were caught in the commission of a crime in that city, and checked it out because it was similar to the robberies in Romulus," Det. Patterson said. "We're investigating the similarities and intend to seek warrants on some of the cases at least."

Both men have been arraigned on the charges of armed robbery in Melvindale.

The two also are suspected of committing similar crimes in Wayne, where a late-night grocery store was held up twice during the month, and in Inkster, where police report seven incidents, including one in which a store employee was shot.

School nears completion

With roof and walls completed and the parking lot in readiness for paving, it appears as though the Romulus School District's new Hale Creek Elementary School is ready for opening. However, interior work may force until October a delay in opening the new facility, one of four to be constructed under a 1973 bond issue. Classrooms however, are expected to be completed, and work is expected to end on the office space and multi-purpose room for the school by October. The district also is supervising the construction of an elementary school on Barth Road east of Hannan Road and the new North Junior High School on Wick Road east of Cogswell Road. # 'Superditch' plan needs road agency's approval to proceed

Roman Staff Writer
Only the agreement of the Wayne

County Road Commission is needed to begin work on an important study which could lead to the City of Romulus breaking from the jurisdiction of the Wayne County Drain Commissioner.

The road agency must sign an agreement to cover the cost of a projected $60,000 study by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers on the impact of diverting storm flow from Romulus, Metropolitan Airport and the Huron Township into the Huron River.

Huron officials last week signed their portion of the agreement which also requires the communities involved to cover a portion of the cost based on the total acreage each agency will drain into a so-called "superditch" to be built to divert storm flow into the Huron River.

The program has been in the planning stage for more than four years. Storm flow now is carried through a series of ditches and creeks to the Detroit River and Lake Erie.

Under the plan, city and township officials hope to escape massive drain improvement costs facing them for maintenance of drainways through communities to the east.

"It looks as though we finally have broken the 'election cycle' which has kept us from going ahead with this project," Romulus Mayor James Stewart said. "I was fearful that we had delayed too long, and we'd get caught up in Huron Township's election this year. But it seems as though this will move along well without worrying about which officials are elected there."

Stewart said he also feared a delay due to Romulus' election next year, unless the first step was taken on the construction soon.

"I'm pleased they moved so swiftly on this matter," Stewart said.

The city's obligation in the study would be approximately $40,000 according to Stewart. However, city taxpayers may not feel the brunt of the cost if the study proves that the so-called "superditch" is needed.

"The cost of the study would be picked up in the construction costs if we proceed with the project," Stewart said. "Then the payments would be spread out, and there would be a chance that federal funding will be available to help."

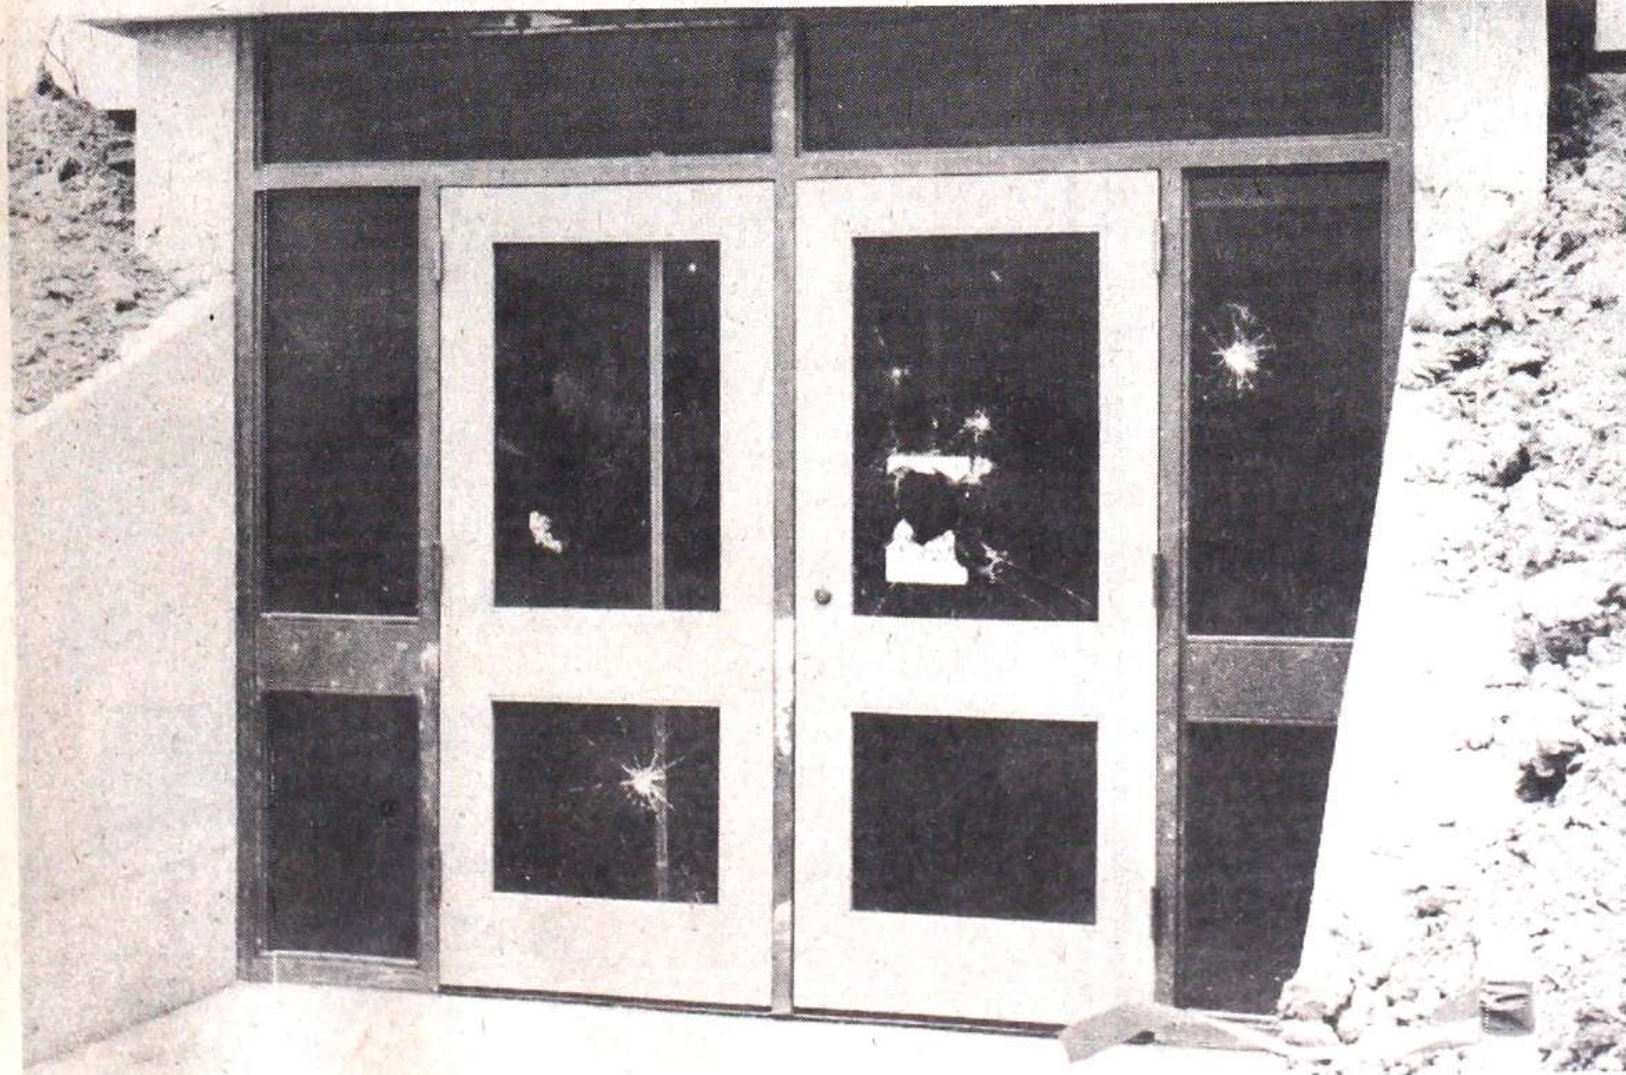

Estimates of the entire project cost have ranged upwards of $60 million, including the maintenance of ditches in the affected communities. When first proposed, the plan included the understanding that federal funding would be available to help defray the costs.

The study to be undertaken will determine whether the Flat Rock dam on the Huron River can handle the extra storm flow from both Romulus and Huron Township as well as the run off from the Metropolitan Airport.

Ironically, Romulus' present city engineering firm, Wade-Trim and Associates, designed the original proposal for the storm drain plan at approximately the same time Romulus was incorporated as a city.

When the city's first administration was replaced by the Terry L. Troutt administration, the engineering firm was changed, along with some of the guidelines.

But when Stewart was elected to office, Wade-Trim was reinstated as the engineering firm, and apparently will be involved in at least the preliminary portion of the project.

Already vandalized

Vandals have already left their "marks" on the Romulus School District's Hale Creek Elementary School, under construction south of Eureka Road and east of Middlebelt Road in Romulus. Rocks were used to shatter glass doors of the

Disadvantaged teens to benefit

SPEDY money aids summer jobs for youth

"SPEDY" money is going to allow Wayne County communities to start their summer youth employment projects sooner than anticipated and on a wider scope than ever before, according to Lois Feldman, regional comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) representative from Chicago.

"SPEDY" does not mean fast money, it stands for Summer Program for Economically Disadvantaged Youths, which was expected to start this week.

Her comments before members of the Wayne County Manpower Advisory Council, recently were substantiated with figures released by Edward Koch, assistant director of the Office of Manpower.

According to Koch, the county will disperse $3,022,500 — twice the amount allocated in 1975 — to hire more than 4,000 disadvantaged youths between the ages of 14 and 21.

The program will allow schools to hire 3,000 students; the Wayne County Road Commission, 180; communities, 200 (approximately five youths for each of the 40 cities and townships involved); the county, 175; Highland Park and Inkster Juvenile Network Community Centers, 100 each.

"There is a chance that an additional 200 students will be allocated to community programs to bring the total up to around 4,000," Koch added.

He pointed out that these figures do not include the cities of Detroit, Dearborn or Livonia, which also are prime sponsors with their own programs and grants.

"This will help somewhat in reducing the excess labor force of the 40 communities that comprise the county program," Koch said.

According to Michigan Employment Security Commission figures there are 41,000 unemployed in this area, down from 58,000 in February.

Hourly rates for the SPEDY projects range from the minimum $2.30 to $3.85 for supervisor help.

Mrs. Feldman told the advisory group that they could expect a number of proposed regulatory modifications.

"The federal government is trying to save CETA administrative dollars with these modifications," she said. "They originated because they respond to local problems and are designed to make CETA funds go farther."

"Some of the modifications will limit auditing requirements of subgrantees, publishing requirements of newspaper application advertisements and eliminate some of the insurance costs."

Jon Weintraub, Washington legislative representative for the National Association of Counties and guest speaker, said he took a dim view of employment services who "rarely help the poor."

"Under provisions of a new bill being submitted to congress, the unemployed individual will go to his local CETA office first where he will be screened and trained and hopefully employed," he said. "If that fails, then he goes to the employment office. Under the present procedure, the individual simply visits the employment office and waits it out."

Echoing Mrs. Feldman's optimism, Weintraub said he expected more money in 1977 to sustain more jobs.

"The major changes coming up in legislation, will be who gets the jobs and establishing a limitation of 12 months on a CETA job," he said.

Although only five of the 40 communities comprising the county program have been forced to lay off employees because of economic pressure, Weintraub said they have — more or less — been given the green light to utilize CETA funds for rehiring purchases.

"Congress severely reprimanded the Labor Department for arbitrarily setting a maximum of 10 percent of CETA funds that could be used," Weintraub added.

Feldman said the problem is providing that an individual actually was being "rehired."

Wayne County Commissioner Royce E. Smith, chairman of the Advisory Council, told the group further CETA workshops would be staged in the near future to update the representatives on legislative action and in conjunction with proposed regional training projects as described by Mrs. Feldman.

Students wishing summer jobs should contact the Intermediate School District at 278-3222 for referral to placement centers closest to their homes.

Disadvantaged youngsters are considered those coming from a non-farm family of four with a gross income of less than $5,500 per year.

Lemontree festivities mark birthday and Bicentennial

It'll be a day of birthday observances when the Lemontree Apartment Complex in Van Buren Township marks its first and our nation's 200th year in a special celebration this Sunday.

The complex, comprised 1,145 tenants and located on Belleville Lake, was created in a change of management last year from the former Knob on the Lake to Lemontree.

And to mark its first full year of operation, the complex will be involved in a celebration dotted with a parade, jazz music, water skiing and dancing.

The fun will start with a parade at 12 p.m. from downtown Belleville to the complex and will include a representation of the community, Lemontree staff and residents. The parade route will be Sumpter Street to Main and from there to the Lemontree complex.

The celebration also will feature jazz music at 1:15 p.m. at water ski show at 2 p.m., Dixieland music at 3:30 p.m. and disco dancing at 4:30 p.m. The water ski show will be presented by the Belleville Water Ski Team.

The Belleville Goodfellows also will be operating a midway, featuring such games as penny pinch, three pin, shuffleboard and fish pond.

The Ann Arbor Art Association will be joining in the dual observance, presenting an art-show, and a farmer's market will be operated by local vendors.

There also will be a bike decorating contest for residents of both the complex and surrounding communities. All participants will receive Frisbees, while the winners will collect $25 U.S. Savings Bonds. Second- and third-place finishers will net gift certificates and sweatshirts.

The fun fest is open to the public. The Lemontree complex is located off the I-94 South Service Drive between the Belleville and Rawsonville exits.

Saline Art Council sponsors exhibit

Curtiss Park will be filled with art this weekend as the Saline Art Council stages its annual art exhibit.

Artists and craftsman from southern Michigan, Ohio, Virginia and Florida will be taking part in this year's art fair, which has been juried for quality and media mix. There will be demonstrations of pottery making, stained glass painting, leatherwork, weaving and woodworking as well as copper smithing, photography, candle making, macrame and print making.

A complete food service will be provided by Romanoff Catering of Ann Arbor.

Entertainment will be provided on Sunday, with the picnic facilities, tennis courts and playground equipment also open to the public. The hours of the fair are 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Saturday and from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday. In case of rain, the fair will relocate at the Saline Middle School, located on Ann Arbor-Saline Road.

Romulus High School to confer 80 degrees

Nearly 280 Romulus High School students will move into the adult world as they graduate during ceremonies scheduled for 7 p.m. tomorrow.

The Rev. James Lee Beall will give the commencement address as some 275 students finish 13 years of schooling and move toward careers.

Honors graduates David Dick and Patricia Dorman will serve as co-valedictorians of the class while Marjorie Glazier will serve as salutatorian.

Dick is a spring graduate of Romulus High School who now is attending Wayne State University with a major in chemistry. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dick.

Miss Dorman plans to attend Western Michigan University in the fall with a major in occupational therapy. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dorman.

Miss Glazier, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lon Glazier of Romulus, will be attending the United States Air Force Academy as a member of the first class to allow women to study at United States military academies.

A major in computer science, Miss Glazier is one of only two metropolitan Detroit area women who were accepted for studies at the military academies.

The top graduates in this year's class, in addition to the three speakers, are Sherry Wilcox, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilcox; Joyce Melton, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Melton; Karen Deline, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Deline; Cecilia Aalbertsberg, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wasvary; Sherry Henderson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Henderson; Anita Johnson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tucker Johnson, and Sharon Donald, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Donald.

The commencement speaker is the pastor of the Bethesda Missionary Temple of Detroit, one of the largest churches in the nation.

He is the speaker on the "National America to Your Knees" radio ministry and is the author of five books including "The School of the Holy Spirit," "Let Us Make Man," "Rise to Newness of Life," "The Adventure of Fasting" and "Strong in Spirit."

Ceremonies will be held at the Bowen Fieldhouse on the campus of the Eastern Michigan University.

Principal of Romulus High School is Joel R. Carr.

529 students end studies at BHS

Commencement to be held tonight

Better than 500 students at Belleville High School will be taking a giant leap toward their careers tonight at Bowen Fieldhouse on the Eastern Michigan University Campus.

The 529 graduating seniors of Belleville High School will be urged to work for a better world at 8 p.m. when commencement ceremonies begin in Ypsilanti.

Commencement speaker is Nate

Blackburn, principal of Metro High School in Chicago, Ill.

Valedictorian is Mark Richard Villeneuve and the salutatorian is Teena Marie Sinkiewicz.

As part of the ceremonies, nine students will receive special awards for their efforts.

The Citizen of the Year Award will go to Jeanne Brunner while the DAR Award will go to Lynn Ann Akans.

The Doris Barker Award will go to Rachael Wilson, the Nicholas D. Falcone Service Award will go to Larry Spino and the Doris Roe Award to Villeneuve.

The R. L. Bird Musician's Award will go to Margot Brown, the Leaster McCoy Choir Award to Patricia Evanski, the Science Award to Cheryl Jennings and the Social Studies Award to Spring Arthur.

Graduating with highest honors this year are Cathy Lee Allen, Scott Sterrett Beck, Margot Anne Brown, Linda Grace Burwell, Miss Jennings, Louis George John Kovach II, John Edward Landoski, Debora Sue Morgan, Andrea J. Price, Julia Ann Priest, Miss Sinkiewicz and Villeneuve.

Honors graduates include Miss Akans, Roy Morgan Arnett, Miss Arthur, Nancy Ann Beegle, Lyla Jeanne Blade, Constance Louise Bracken, David J. Bukis, David Leslie Carnahan, Beverly Lynn Cox, Diplomas will be presented by Van Buren Board of Education President R. Lynne Hamilton, vice-president Doris J. Roe and faculty members Louise Pitcher and Fonie Butler.

Romulus Kiwanians honor RHS graduates

Sixty-six students from Romulus Senior High School were honored at the school's 17th annual honors banquet last week, by the Romulus Kiwanis Club.

The students were introduced by Georgia Badgett, dean of students. The scholarship awards were presented by Allie Jackson, the vocational awards by David Fardon and the Walter B. Mach music award by Roderic Smith.

Dr. William Simmons, superintendent of the Wayne County Intermediate School District, addressed the banquet guests and the invocation and benediction was given by the Rev. Paul Greer.

Prior to the dinner and program, John Lewkowicz, Kiwanis president, conducted a brief business meeting, delivered greetings from the club and introduced several guests.

The honor students were:

Vocational ed class puts creation on sale

Twenty-four students from the Romulus Community Schools' Building Trades class have completed a home which is now ready for sale.

Bids are now being accepted on the three-bedroom colonial-style ranch home. Minimum bid is $45,000 and all bids must be submitted to the Romulus Board of Education office, 36540 Grant Road, Romulus, by 4 p.m. on June 25.

The students worked six hours a day throughout the school year to complete this home. The display and product of their carpentry, masonry, electrical and plumbing skills may be seen at 37735 Tyler Road in Romulus, one-fourth mile west of Ozga Road.

The home features two and a half baths, a brick and aluminum-sided exterior and a sunken family room with a large fireplace.

The home is large, measuring 1,537 square feet, and has a two-car garage. The lot, 115 feet by 300 feet, is wooded at the rear and is a short distance from the new Wick Elementary School and North Junior High School. All water, sewer and gas lines have been installed.

Additional information may be obtained by calling 941-1600 or 941-2170, extension 41.

Donations required for sale

Senior Citizens' Club No. 1 of Romulus is presenting an old-time white elephant and bake sale on June 18 and 19.

Donations of jewelry, dishes, live plants or anything else a person might not want but someone else might would be appreciated, a club spokesman said. Proceeds will go to the Romulus senior citizens to help support their activities.

The sales will be held from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. on June 18 and from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on June 19.

Voters to get rides

The Van Buren School District will be coordinating a "ride to the polls" campaign for the June 14 millage election.

Persons wishing to obtain some transportation to the polls to vote on the district's request to increase millage by a total of 6.5 mills has the opportunity between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m. election day.

Arrangements for rides can be made by calling either 697-2321 or 697-2323.

Finishing touches

Student construction worker Randy Birdwell places the finishing touch on masonry around the Romulus High School building trades class home in Romulus under the direction of Conrad Samonek, building trades instructor. Looking on for some information are Gary Rutkowski, a senior and Mike Ellis, also a senior. Students in the program build a home from the ground up to gain some skill in all phases of construction work during their high school years. The home will be open to the public this weekend. — ANP photo.

St. John's Church marks 100th anniversary

Three buildings and 100 years later, the congregation of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church of Westland will observe its centennial anniversary this Sunday.

The church founded in 1877 in Wayne, will mark its 100th year of religious service by having two ministers of the Wisconsin Evangelical Synod, of which it is a member, on hand to speak at three services.

The Rev. Edgar Hoenecke, executive secretary of the Synod's Board for World Missions, will speak at the 8 and 10:30 a.m. services, while The Rev. Oscar J. Naumann, president of the Synod, will speak at 4 p.m.

There are about 1,400 baptized members in the congregation of the church, which serves 14 communities including Wayne and Westland.

Founded in 1876, the first church was built in 1877 on Elizabeth Street in Wayne. A second church was later erected at the site in 1921. However, in 1965, the congregation elected to sell the church property to the City of Wayne for downtown development and moved the church to Glenwood in Westland, where the cornerstone was laid in 1966.

During its long history in the community, the church also constructed a school, the first located on the Elizabeth Street property. Materials for the construction of the school came from the dismantled original church. A second school was built later on Wayne Road in Westland in 1951.

The church during its first 15 years of existence faced a slow growth of its congregation due to an almost yearly change in pastor. However, three ministers — that of Pastor George Ehnis for 18 years, Pastor O.J. Peters for 32 years and Pastor G.L. Press for 17 years — helped broaden the membership.

In its first 33 years, the church had five pastors, including The Rev. G. Deckinger from 1876-78, The Rev. W. Bunge from 1878-86, The Rev. W. Remy from 1886-78, The Rev. J. Baumann from 1888-91 and The Rev. Ehnis from 1891-1909.

In its next 67 years the parish had three pastors — The Rev. Peters from 1909-41, The Rev. Press from 1941-68 and current pastor, The Rev. Robert A. Baer from 1968 to present.

Assisting The Rev. Baer in administering to the congregation is Vicar Mark Schlenner, with Harold Marks serving as principal of the church school.

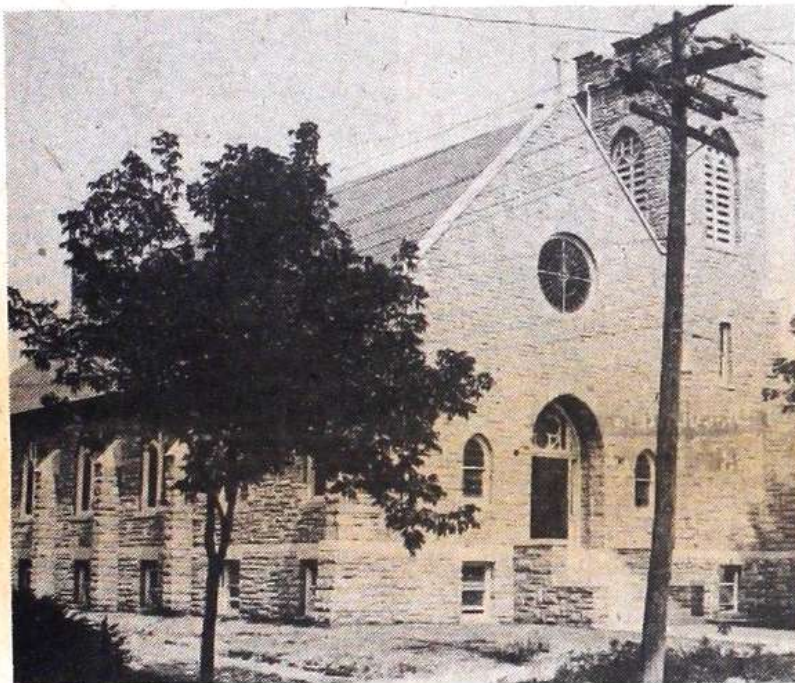

Teachers at the facility, which has an enrollment of 178 students in kindergarten through the eighth grade, are Daniel Boehm, Frederick Beidenbender, Rosslyn Anderson, Marie Spaude, Steven Bilitz and Cleo Walling.

Heading up the church membership as congregation president is Robert Bennett, with Robert Sylvester as vice-president and Marvin Lonske, Herman Alves, Jeremiah Sullivan, Randall Hebron, Peter Lowry and Grant Campbell as the other church council members.

Organizations within the church includes the Ladies Aid, Lutheran Pioneers, Lutheran Girl Pioneers, Home-School Society, Fellowship Club, Lutheran Young Adults and Women's Missionary Society.

County training program aids unemployed Latinos

The Wayne County Office of Manpower Service Center now has training openings for 45 unemployed Latinos interested in learning new jobs or English language skills, according to Marlene Dewling, manager of the center.

Applicants for the positions must be residents of Wayne County, with the exception of Detroit, Dearborn and Livonia, at least 17 years of age with a high school diploma or 18 years and above.

"This is an excellent opportunity for Latinos interested in developing skills that can lead to fulltime career opportunities," Miss Dewling said.

The training programs offered include one with English as the Second Language (ESL) which teaches English to monolingual persons using terms and meanings that relate to the work environment.

The second program is in a medical training and prepares participants to pass tests for enrollment in licensed practical nurse or medical transcriptionist programs through vocational education.

The clerical program is geared to shorthand, typing and other such skills, while the graphic arts program teaches the mechanics involved in graphic arts, including layout, stripping, design and photography.

The final program is an adult basic education class which assists participants in studying for the GED high school equivalency examination.

Interested Latinos should call 721-6100 for an appointment at the Manpower Service Center, located at 36253 Michigan Avenue, a half mile south of Wayne Road in Wayne.

Quirk Brownies cross over into Girl Scout movement

In a ceremony attended by their parents, 30 members of the Quirk Road Elementary School Brownie troops were given their wings by the troop's leaders.

The youngsters crossed over from the Brownie organization into the Girl Scouting movement during the ceremony.

Flying up from Brownie Troop 402 were Tamera Butts, Kathryn Clark, Eva Cleveland, Mildred Delaney, Shelly Kincaide, Michelle Mihail, Rebecca Potteiger, Tamara Richard, Denise Smith, Charlotte Stamper, Dawn Twydel, Sandra Ward, Debra Fulner, Rebecca King and Margaret Monforton.

Crossing over from Troop 370 were Rebecca Bearer, Cheryl Bella, Shelly Campbell, Ann Marie Brunner, Laura Howard, Donna Koerber, Donna Lewis, Roberta Mitchell, Patricia Phelan, Cheryl Schubert, Shana Smith, Tamara Curtis and Kim Holland.

Moving into the new Scouting organization from Troop 354 were Laurie Dudash, Joelle Manzer and Tammy Tuttle.

During the ceremony parents were provided an explanation of the Junior Girl Scout units.

Detection of anemia available

The Wayne County Health Department now is offering continuous sickle cell detection and counselling service for Western Wayne County residents.

The program is being operated in conjunction with the Sickle Cell Detection and Counselling Center of Detroit at two locations in the area.

The local sites are the Wayne County Health Center, Room 143, on Merriman Road in Westland and the South Health Center at 21201 Eureka Road, Taylor. The former site will provide the service on Tuesday and the latter on Thursdays. The hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 12 p.m. and from 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Those youngsters making the change, but not able to attend the ceremony, were Karen McMillian, Renae Himes, Lisa Wood, Janet Nowitzke and DeNaya Wilson.

Helping to prepare the Brownies for the advancement were Pat Twydel, Linda Tarris, Pauline Ostrowski, Rosalie Cartwright, Cathy Howard and Carol Campbell.

S. Africa snubs U.S. nuclear plant bid

By TOM OCHILTREE
Panax Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — President Ford has characterized as "unfortunate" the last minute decision of Prime Minister John Vorster's government to reject an American proposal to build South Africa's first nuclear power plants and to award the $1 billion contract to France instead. This case points up the fact that "this is a very competitive world," the President told a group of reporters recently.

He carefully avoided criticizing the South African government by name and expressed the belief the deal went sour so far as American interests were concerned because there "were some expressions of dissatisfaction" about the whole project.

In this atmosphere, the President added, "the French were in a position" to conclude the deal and did so.

The disappointment and surprise caused in Washington by the collapse of the nuclear power plant deal was heightened by the fact that President Ford now is taking a calculated political risk in the interest of international stability.

Quietly and carefully the President has been seeking to improve his lines of communication with the Republic of South Africa. He hopes closer Washington-Pretoria contacts will enable the two governments and other interested parties to stave off threatened bloody racial conflicts throughout the southern part of Africa.

Initial consultations now are taking place for a projected Ford-Vorster meeting at some neutral site, possible in Europe. Ford first signalled a willingness to meet with Vorster and also with Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith at a propitious time in answer to a question by John P. McGoff, president of Panax Corp. The President and McGoff met aboard Ford's campaign train in southern Michigan last month.

General Electric Co., was the American firm belonging to a consortium which had expected to sell the two nuclear power facilities to South Africa's Electricity Supply Commission (ESCOM). Other members of this consortium were Brown Boveri of Switzerland and

'...the French were in a position to conclude the deal and did so.'

— President Ford

BENUCON of the Netherlands.

The successful bidder was the French consortium of Framstome, Alstom and Spie Batignolles. The French prevailed, not only over the American-Dutch-Swiss consortium, but also over West Germany's Kraft-Werke-Union group.

Loss of the American bid, which also included favorable financial terms, not only had an adverse impact on the income and job opportunities at General Electric but also raised the worrying issue of safeguards.

In testimony the other day before a Senate Foreign relations subcommittee two high State Department officials pointed out that an American sale of nuclear power facilities would contain strict safeguards which would prevent South Africa from using the two nuclear reactors for military purposes.

Obviously, the United States government could not be completely sure such safeguards were being observed if America had no part in providing the power facilities, the state department witnesses told the subcommittee. This argument appeared to make an impact on Sen. Dick Clark (D-Iowa), the panel chairman, and Sen. Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.), the two subcommittee members present.

The French government has characterized as "nonsense" charges published in France that the South Africans accepted the French bid so the Vorster government could possess the means of developing its own atomic bombs.

"France imposes strict controls on its sale of nuclear technology to make sure that technology is used only for peaceful purposes, French Foreign Minister Jean Sauvagnargues was quoted as saying.

The South African government also has stressed that it is interested only in developing the peaceful uses of nuclear energy. Most experts believe it would not be particularly difficult for South Africa to build its own nuclear weapons if it so wished. The country contains important uranium deposits and possesses the necessary advanced technology.

Plans call for locating the two nuclear power plants — each with a one million kilowatt capacity — in Koeberg, 25 miles north of Capetown. The first unit is scheduled to go into commercial operation in September, 1982, and the second a year later.

According to the conservative Paris newspaper Figaro, the two reactors are capable of producing enough plutonium annually to make several hundred atomic bombs of the size of the one dropped on Nagasaki in 1945.

President Ford understood international safeguards would govern the South African reactors. He said he had been informed these safeguards were being upgraded by the International Atomic Energy Commission (IAEC) and that he expected the improved rules "would be applicable so far as the French sale to South Africa" is concerned.

Meanwhile, a French foreign ministry official said France and South Africa have agreed to allow the IAEC, a Vienna-based agency, a right of inspection.

When the American bid seemed likely to be finalized, complaints were voiced in Congress and out that this "might give black Africans" a signal that the United States government was softening its objections to South Africa's internal racial policies and willing to lift its arms embargo. State Department spokesmen repeatedly have denied both suggestions.

The Dutch Parliament also got into a row which delayed the final wrapping up of the deal and gave the French their last minute chance to move in.

And finally, France which has not embargoed arms sales to South Africa exerted great pressure on South Africa to accept the French bid.

As Panax sees it

American dream offers world hope

For the first time in American history presidential politics this year truly can be characterized as "redemption politics."

As the long primary election process reaches the home stretch, one fact stands out. The voters are hungry for a candidate they believe will "wash the nation's political sins away."

On the Democratic side the success thus far of front runner Jimmy Carter and the surprising strength of his late challengers — California Gov. Edmund G. (Jerry) Brown Jr., and Idaho's Sen. Frank Church — can be explained adequately in no other terms. Their speeches are marked by the imagery and tone of the pulpit.

Southern Baptist Carter, former governor of Georgia, and Brown, a former Jesuit seminarian, win ovations when they insist that America basically is a good country and Americans are a good people and they are going to protect that goodness.

In the head-to-head race for the Republican presidential nomination, Ronald Reagan's blasts at the "Washington establishment" strike a similar revival meeting note. The former California governor stresses that he never has been tainted by the Washington crowd.

Because he obviously is so much a part of Washington, President Gerald Ford is handicapped in this odd competition to see heap and most coals on the supposedly sin drenched nation's capital.

Yet Ford, when he can, seeks to leave the impression that he is determined to make the United States more self confident and strong. He claims, with considerable justification, that he already has improved the moral tone of the federal government and the country.

Why should this be such a hand wringing election? There was never another one like this even after the Civil War. There was regional bitterness then, but almost no call for self criticism — no feeling the country was guilty of sin. Maybe Americans were too busy in those years winning the West.

Future historians with a psychological view of mass human behavior probably will decide that the American sense of rightness was more seriously damaged in recent years than we have been prepared to admit.

First there was the Vietnam War which the government saw to it was fought largely by the sons of the poor and the uninfluential while the sons of the better off hid out in college and sometimes covered their own guilt feelings by engaging in campus riots. All classes fought side by side in our previous wars. Despite some abuses often the sons of the rich were among the first to go. It was expected of them.

Add Watergate to Vietnam and many citizens, in their own minds, began to substitute cynicism for pride in their country. Then it turned out that Richard Nixon wasn't the only President to overstep the mark in the name of protecting national security.

The Senate's select committee investigating the CIA and the FBI has turned up information that every Administration, going back to and including Franklin D. Roosevelt's, stretched and in some cases abused the police powers residing in the White House.

All the presidential hopefuls, Republicans and Democrats alike, recognize the need now to halt the public cynicism and to revive that old Yankee Doodle belief that this country still possesses the world's best social system and has the will and the courage to make the American way of life even better.

If the American dream proves to be beyond realization what hope can the rest of the world's people cling to? Lincoln made the same point over a century ago. It is still true today.

Readers are invited to send their opinions on events of public interest to the editor of The Enterprise-Roman, 35540 Michigan Avenue, Wayne, 48184. Each letter must include the writer's signature, address and telephone numbers. Letters which do not include the above criteria will not be published.

Names will be withheld from letters to be published only for good reasons. Those reasons must be included on the letter. The request "do not use my name" is not enough and those letters will be published with names. The editor reserves the right to edit and condense letters.

As they see it

Citizens urge 'no' vote on tax

To the Editor:

A leak (so called) in the form of a photo copy of a proposed cut and approved by the board in school services extolled in the worst light, of the belt tightening.

This would lead a person to believe that the schools would be, to all practical purposes, stripped of all good solid education. This is not so:

An austerity program? The School Board and Adm. would say "heaven forbid."

Students' behavior praised

To the Editor:

On May 22, eight Van Buren bus drivers took it upon ourselves to chaperon our students (340) on a trip to Cedar Point.

We chartered eight Greyhound buses which arrived at North Junior High School right on schedule.

We are writing this letter because we are PROUD of our students for their actions and behavior on this trip.

We received compliments from the Greyhound bus drivers on our group, so we would like the people of Belleville to know and realize that our students are a really great group of kids who are an asset to the Belleville community.

'Superwalkers' are lauded

To the editor:

Sheila Young and Charlie Sanders, co-chairmen of the Metropolitan Detroit March of Dimes Superwalk '76 would like to thank everyone who participated in Superwalk '76 in any way (walkers, volunteers, suppliers, etc.) for making it the number one walk in the country. Truly, Metropolitan Detroit's 20-mile Walk-A-Thon is the only "Superwalk" of all walk-a-thons. (There are some 2,000 held in United States annually.)

Through the efforts of the more than 33,000 people who participated in the Metropolitan Detroit area, both at Belle Isle and Stony Creek, the March of Dimes can continue taking giant strides in its fight to prevent birth defects.

The staff of the Metropolitan Detroit March of Dimes, along with Richard T. Kelly, chapter chairman, wants to add their thanks, too. Superwalkers are super people!

Maxwell Gurman
executive director

There is a definite link between the Van Buren Education Association and the administration to push through the 6.5 mill tax increase, which is $6.50 on a home with a $10,000 equalized valuation.

The taxpayers are telling the school administration to cut back, which they should have done when the big spenders, from top man down through the board, approved every program that was suggested. Vote "no!"

Concerned citizens of Van Buren Township

Taxpayers thanked for approving jail

To the editor:

Thank you for reporting the facts concerning the one-half mill tax increase issue prior to the May 18 election.

I also want to thank those voters who responded to this reporting by voting "yes" on Proposition A, and ask that you help me to carry this message of appreciation to them.

I am urging the Board of Commissioners, and, particularly, the Public Works Committee and the Public Safety and Judiciary Committee, to act swiftly — and prudently — to carry out the mandate of the voters.

We will work cooperatively with the Board of Auditors and the Buildings Division in this endeavor.

Problems will arise, as is to be expected with a project of this magnitude.

We will address — and solve — these problems.

We look forward to construction of the new jail facility as quickly as is reasonably possible.

John Barr
Chairman of the Board

I've Had It

Let's go for a little walk today
So we can be alone.
I have a lot I want to say
To make a happier home.

We can't go on this way, you see,
There's bickering all the time.
Further away you're driving me
'Cause you just can't be kind.

I'm always wrong, you're always right.
Now you know that's not true.
God made me that I'm pretty bright
Except in the eyes of you.

You say I can't have this or that
You act like one big boss.
But in the chair you always sat
While I carried that big cross.

You say you want the house clean
And meals right on time.
It's hard to do when you're so mean
And I'm tired, but you don't mind.

You say to have the work done
Before you get home at night.
But you never say, "Sit down,
hon"

You say where did my money go,
And give account of that.
We ate the biggest share I know
'Cause both of us is fat.

The children bother you so much
That's all you ever say.
Even the baby you won't touch,
And with none of them you play.

You're a man that wants his way,
For us you have no heart.
Only one thing I will say,
"Change" — before we part.

Happy Birthday, America

Happy birthday America, how do you feel?
Do you think you've been getting a fair shake of the deal?
Two hundred years ago from this very year, things seemed to be so very much more clear.

People didn't have to worry about keeping the air clean, and for as far as you could see everything was green.
Now they say don't buy more aerosol sprays,
'cause its breaking down our ozone and letting in more rays.

They cut down our trees to make better expressways, but nobody cares how much our land really pays.
People are going around and killing one another, and some would have no guilt for stealing from their mother.

People used to find ways so they could all get along,
look at us now, just what is it that's wrong?
Our politicians are crooked, just look in their eyes, they look at us and smile while they tell us their lies.

People are working their lives away and tell me what for, so they can have just enough money to say they're not poor.
People aren't people anymore, their numbers in a file,
America is losing its originality and style.

Some people wonder nowadays why kids are always getting high, how can they have the audacity to even ask us why.
America isn't getting better, it's getting older day by day, and by the looks of things this is how it might stay.

Unless we all get together and really lend a hand, and show just how much we really love our land.
Let's give ourselves a reason to celebrate and party down, let "America the Beautiful" be heard from town to town!

Oil breakup will only hurt consumer

By PATRICK J. BUCHANAN
New York Times News Service

WASHINGTON — Having brilliantly restructured the U.S. Postal Service, members of Congress are anxious to turn their attention and expertise to rearranging the oil industry.

Chief engineer for the operation is Senator Gary Hart, a former campaign manager for George McGovern. The Colorado Democrat last exhibited his organizational acumen in the election of 1972, when, with a few hand-picked men, he managed to steer the nation's majority party into the now-legendary loss of 49 states. An extraordinary achievement for a politician so young.

Anxious to assist Mr. Hart in the surgery on Exxon and Friends are the Senate's industrial wizards and intellectual heavies: Birch Bayh and Teddy Kennedy. Why? Says Senator Hart, "Because in my judgment there is not enough free enterprise and competition in the oil industry."

Let us make, temporarily, the suspension of disbelief required to accept at face value that Mr. Hart and his colleagues are concerned about "free enterprise and competition." Why then break up the oil companies? The largest one in the United States does not control 10 percent of its market while General Motors, comparatively speaking, has a hammerlock on the auto industry. Indeed, there are 25 U.S. industries — steel, autos, copper, aircraft, etc. — where the top eight companies control a larger share of the market than the eight biggest oil concerns. If "competition" is the concern, why hit oil first?

Because, says "Scoop" Jackson, oil companies are price gougers who make "obscene profits."

But, from 1947 to 1973, the price of a gallon of gas rose from 17 cents to 27 cents in the United States, not even keeping pace with inflation. The price jump of the past two years came only after the oil sheiks pumped up the price of a barrel of crude from $2 in the fall of 1972 to $10.50 in the fall of 1974.

Even with that act of piracy, American motorists still enjoy the cheapest gasoline of any industrial nation in the world. And what is "obscene" about an oil company profit of two pennies on a gallon of gas, when many states are skimming eight cents right off the top of the same gallon?

Congress is tinkering with two approaches; horizontal and-or vertical divestiture. The first would force oil companies to shuck off subsidiaries dealing in other energy sources: electrical power, nuclear power and coal. But, during an energy shortage, this makes as much sense as Congress directing — during a food shortage — that the most efficient and productive farms cease planting more than a single crop.

Vertical divestiture would force the oil companies to relinquish all but one of their integrated functions: production, transport, refining or marketing of petroleum products.

But countless industries are vertically integrated. ABC, NBC and CBS film, edit, cut, produce, air, distribute and market the "news" upon which two-thirds of the nation depends as the primary source of information about society, government and the world. If the production of gasoline is to be broken down into its component parts, why not the production of television programs and news?

The truth of the matter is the oil companies have been singled out for assault not for economic but for partisan and ideological motives. While the giant networks are liberal and located in New York, the oil companies are, by and large, politically conservative, and their most important holdings are in benighted regions like Texas and Louisiana.

Big oil is vulnerable because it is large, visible, unpopular with the press and public, capital rather than labor intensive. Should Hart, Kennedy or Bayh suggest the demolition of the auto or steel industries, for example, they would encounter angry resistance from the auto and steel workers unions upon which their party depends.

Smashing the oil companies will only deepen America's energy crisis. During the years following "divestiture," the companies will be tied up in the federal courts, unable to raise tons of billions in borrowed capital vital if this country is to gain economic independence from the oil states of the Persian Gulf.

Breaking up Big Oil will mean inefficiencies, duplication, waste, higher costs and higher prices. Downstream a put-upon public will demand that government step in to rescue the country from the mess government itself will have created. And Congress will be delighted.

But will the consumer? Do we really want the nation's energy industry run by the same wonderful people who gave us military disaster in Asia, double digit inflation and the 13-cent stamp?

'Reformers' have own standard

By JEFFREY ST. JOHN
Copley News Service

WASHINGTON — "Since the Wayne Hays thing broke," Congresswoman Marjorie Holt (R-Md.) observed to this columnist, "the reform group that had so much to say about the need for morality in public officials has fallen remarkably silent."

Mrs. Holt was referring, of course, to Rep. Wayne L. Hays (D-Ohio) and the sexual liaison with Elizabeth Ray whom he allegedly placed on a committee payroll at $14,000 a year in exchange for her services.

"What is most disturbing about this incident," Mrs. Holt told me, careful not to use the word "affair," "is that it smears many of us in Congress who take our trust seriously. The Hays incident will be taken by many Americans as a betrayal of the trust given to us by those who sent us here. I can't understand people who think that because they are elected to Congress that this gives them a license to play fast and loose."

Congresswoman Holt, ironically, edited prior to the Hays sex scandal a book titled "The Case Against the Reckless Congress" (Greenhill Publishers, Inc., Ottawa, Ill., 61350, $1.95). In it Mrs. Holt and 18 other Congressional colleagues deliver up a biting indictment of Congress for "political expediency" and "political trickery." While the indictment confines itself to domestic and foreign affairs, the charge can apply equally to how reform-minded members of the House have reacted to the Hays affair.

When a large bloc of liberal Congressmen were elected in the wake of Watergate in 1974, Mrs. Holt pointed out, this group set out in the last two years to topple powerful House committee chairmen. Many were charged with being "too powerful and unaccountable."

The "reform group" was highly successful in purging a string of powerful and long-standing chairmen, including Rep. Wilbur Mills (D-Ark.) who was involved in a similar scandal with a woman. However, Mills kept his private liaison with a "go go" dancer nicknamed "The Argentine firecracker" off the Congressional payroll.

As Mrs. Holt observed to this columnist, "the reformers purged powerful committee chairmen who were moderate conservatives and Southerners. Wayne Hays, of course, who is powerful, was never considered a candidate for the reform group's political purge."

The reason why Hays was ignored by the liberal reformers was that he is the powerful chairman of the House Administration Committee, the very committee for which Elizabeth Ray worked. Furthermore, the liberal reformers did not dare challenge Hays as chairman because his committee controls the purse strings of all Congressional expense accounts!

In recent months, The Wall Street Journal has documented two dozen cases in which Congressmen have filed "false expense vouchers for travel to their home district." Neither the reformers nor Hays' committee — which has the responsibility of overseeing such actions — has bothered to investigate the charges.

Hays is also chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, which doles out campaign funds to Congressional candidates. The silence of the reformers in not calling for Hays' ouster or an investigation by the House Ethics Committee is especially significant since most of the liberal reformers depend for their re-election, in part, on keeping on the good side of Hays. The reformers who have made public utterances calling for a probe of Hays have issued such muted statements as "You shouldn't kick a man while he is down."

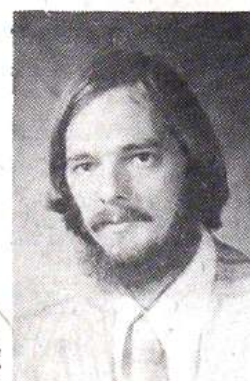

Thus the Hays affair illustrates, once again, that the politics of Congressional reform suffers from a double standard. It strides like a lion across the political landscape when it gains headlines and hurts political foes of liberalism, but quickly goes underground, like a groundhog, when it sees its corrupt shadow.

As the former chairman of the Federal Election Commission, Thomas Curtis, once a congressman himself, remarked to this columnist in a recent interview: "There is a lot of stuff on Capitol Hill that can't stand the sunlight. Congress is like a big iceberg. And we know what the sunlight can eventually do to an iceberg!"

Intolerance comes from all sides

By BOB BERG
Panax Lansing Bureau Chief

LANSING — This is a column about tolerance, or perhaps intolerance is a better way to put it.

It is prompted by an off-hand remark made around here the other day by Perry Bullard, a Democratic state representative from Ann Arbor.

Bullard is one of the young turks around here. He is a civil libertarian type, very liberal, and spends a lot of time worrying and talking about the need for individual liberty. He would tell you he is as liberal and as open minded as anyone down here.

His activities in his two terms here have earned enough attention that he was interviewed by the Michigan State University student newspaper and in the course of the interview he was asked about his tardiness at House sessions.

"I don't go down (to the floor of the house)," he said, "until the prayer and all that bull— is finished."

It was an off-hand remark, presumably designed to emphasize his irreverence for things in general and his refusal to be conventional. But in its own way, it was as intolerant, as unkind of the sensitivities of other people as anything ever said here.

Now, this is not to infer that the brief prayer at the start of the session has great religious meaning for most lawmakers. As happens with most anything done repeatedly, it is a ritual and that's about it. It has no noticeable effect on the proceedings around here and is pretty much a perfunctory matter.

But the point is that there are millions of people who view prayer as a very sacred matter. Bullard's off-hand statement was as offensive to them and as intolerant of their views as it would have been for him to use words like "nigger" or "kike" or "drunken Indian."

This is not to infer, either, that Bullard should start rushing to catch the starting prayer at each legislative session. It is his own choice to make and he can show or not show.

The point involves the incongruity of a man who so openly espouses individual freedom and so roundly denounces intolerance and bigotry making what is in essence a very intolerant statement. It's a statement which reflects none of the sensitivity for others normally claimed by those in the civil liberties business.

We learn about people from the way they deal with those with whom they disagree.

It turns out intolerance comes from all sides.

New benches added to Bicentennial Park

Belleville South Junior High School (SJHS) students, under the leadership of the Understanding Committee, put the finishing touches on their Bicentennial project at the Belleville Bicentennial Park when they installed six benches purchased from the funds that were raised at the school. They were assisted at the park in the installation by Jon Hale, Belleville Bicentennial Chairman for the city.

Jack Harris, director of the SJHS Student Council, was present to assist as was Charles Harris who furnished a tractor and drilling equipment to set the posts for the benches. Principal Don White was on hand to record the event in pictures for the rest of the school.

The Student Understanding Committee raised over $500 in a week of activity at South Junior High. This included the sale of pop, early lunch passes, contests for best costumes of 1776 and today's best dress — 1976. The finale was a Friday evening activity "Fun Night" of sports games and dancing at the school.

The group, under the direction of Richard Kiessel of the SJHS staff, had met with members of the Belleville Bicentennial Committee earlier and had decided that they would like to place benches in the park with the funds raised. This was agreed to and the project finalized during an afternoon of work at the park on May 28.

Following the work session, the students adjourned to South for a pizza party and a ball game with the adults to celebrate a job well done.

"It is gratifying to see young Americans pitching in to make America, Belleville in particular, a better place to live," Principal Don White said.

Students at the park to install the benches were Belinda Stafford and Kim Brown, co-chairpersons of the Understanding Committee, Angela Brown, Cecil Koger, Julie Sears, Tim Moyer, Mark Speights, Mike Trevorrow, Mark Page and Doug Sheldon.

Park benches their contribution

South Junior High School students chose the purchase and installation of park benches as their Bicentennial project. After raising some $500 during a week of activity at the school, they put the funds towards six new benches for the Belleville Bicentennial Park located on High Street overlooking Belleville Lake. Taking part in the work detail were Tim Moyer (with shovel, left) and Doug

Belleville woman receives law degree at Villanova U.

Pamela Phillips Maki graduated from the Villanova University School of Law in Villanova, Pa. on May 19 receiving a juris doctor degree, cum laude, and graduating 11th in a class of 201.

She also was elected to membership in the Order of the Coif. Election of law students to the Coif is restricted to the 10 per cent of each senior class who have attained the highest academic rank and made a significant contribution to the law school.

Ms. Maki's contributions during her three years at Villanova included serving on the Honor Board and being the law student division representative to the American Bar Assoc. as a first year student. She also represented her school at the ABA's annual convention in Chicago in 1974.

On the basis of her first year grades, she was selected to be a staff member of the Villanova Law Review, the law school's academic publication containing articles by both members of the legal profession and law students who are on the Review. Ms. Maki wrote and published a casenote while a staff member. In her third year, she was elected to a position on the editorial board of the Review as the Projects and Third Circuit Review Editor.

She and another third-year law student from Villanova entered the National Mock Trial Competition and swept the Mid-Atlantic Regional competitions winning all three rounds of trials to capture first place. They then traveled to Houston, Texas to compete in the national levels of competition. There they won third place in the nation, competing against teams from Harvard, Notre Dame and Washington Universities. The competition was sponsored by the Texas law firm of Fulbright and Jaworski.

On graduation day, Ms. Maki also received an award from the International Academy of Trial Lawyers for distinguished achievement in the art and science of advocacy. This award is given annually to the third year student excelling in trial skills.

The summer following her second year, Ms. Maki was employed as a law clerk for the Philadelphia law firm of Morgan, Lewis and Bockius. This summer she will study for the Pennsylvania bar examination and in the fall will begin to serve a 2-year federal judicial clerkship in the U. S. District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania with the Honorable John P. Fullam.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Phillips of Kozma Road, Belleville, along with two other daughters, Gaylin Phillips and Janine Tompkins and her husband, Robert, flew out to attend the graduation ceremonies and to visit with Pam and her husband, Alan Maki, who is an English teacher at Beverly Hills Junior High School in Upper Darby, Pa.

Grand Rapids is site of Rainbow Assembly

Attending the International Order of Rainbow for Girls Grand Assembly held at Grand Rapids May 27-30 were 16 girls from Belleville Assembly No. 49. Mother Advisor, Rose Ann Welt; Past Mother Advisor, Frances McAtee; Donna Collins, Connie Gubaci, Roberta Pond and Le Dehlla Hall also attended.

The candidate, Debbie Craycraft of McBride Road, who was to have been initiated, was unable to attend due to having broken her leg. Belleville members, Norma McDonald and Ronda Mayfield, had the honor of carrying the flags for the state choir.

Others receiving appointments were Sylvia Carey, page to Captain Phillips; Roberta Welt, Grand Representative to Vermont; Denise Welt, Orange Ray Reporter for the Rainbow State Newspaper, "Rainbow Reflection", and Mother Welt, a member of the State Official Rainbow and Art Committee.

Denise Welt won first place for the "Mile of Dimes," having collected 132 dimes for the E. Elberta Coburn Scholarship Fund.

The Grand Cross of Color was bestowed on Mrs. Nancy Carey, Mrs. Roberta Pond, Pam Bankert, Sue Carey and Robert Collins.

RHS grads secure in new jobs

Two more Romulus High School graduates are now employed full time thanks to the Romulus Schools' Job Placement Office and its director, Catherine Ward.

A 1975 alumna, Sheri Holbrook, had no prior experience but now is working as a lens grinder and lab technician for Dr. Donald L. Golden, optometrist, in Southfield.

Miss Holbrook has an interesting job since she deals with the public, helping them with repairs and adjustments on their eyeglasses. During her 42½-hour week, she works with some 20,000 different eyeglass frames. Since the office in which she is employed, is the headquarters for Detroit Optometrists, it is necessary that the lab technicians make the needed adjustments and return the glasses to the correct branch offices for their customers.

Benefits from the company include dental, health and life insurance and sick leave pay. She also earns vacation time and receives a discount on eyeglasses.

Another Romulus graduate, Ronald Buckley, also received assistance in finding work through the placement office. Because he knew his basic math (measuring and multiplying), he was hired by Federal Mogul in Ann Arbor.

His duty at the developmental research company is to mix rubber compounds. He had on-the-job training in learning how to operate the rubber mill and labsize banbury. These machines mix the chemicals and add color and a vulcanizing agent. The rubber sheets are then cut into parts and tested for durability under various conditions.

Buckley likes his job which gives him responsibility for getting his work done on his own and provides holidays, vacation time, life and health insurance. And the next time you hold a rubber O-ring from a car or tractor in your hand, it may just be the result of Buckley's work.

The Job Placement Office can be reached by calling Miss Ward at 941-2170, Ext. 74.

At Edgemont School

Magic Globe Players to be on stage

The Belleville Bicentennial Committee will sponsor a "Bicentennial Salute to America" at 7 p.m. June 17 in a shaded area of Edgemont Elementary School's playground. An alternate indoor site will be announced in the event of inclement weather.

The salute will be presented by the Magic Globe Players, a traveling children's theater troupe from Bismarck, N.D. The Players will use a variety of dramatic techniques including puppetry, pantomime, singing and acting to tell the story of America's history and heritage.

The 55-minute production is designed for children, family groups and the "young at heart" and will be performed outdoors, in the round, with the audience seated on all sides of a portable stage. Children in the stands will be asked to help act in many of the skits.

By spinning their "magic globe", the Players travel through time from 1492 when Columbus first set sail to the west, through early colonial America, the signing of the Declaration of Independence and the American Revolution, to more modern America with the invention of the telephone and then into the future to the year 2076.

Admission is free and the public is welcome to enjoy the show.

Mrs. Feltman takes part in memorial

Mrs. Frank Feltman of Belleville, newly-elected president of the Great Lakes Steel American Legion Auxiliary, Unit No. 272, was among those taking part in recent memorial services at Riverside Park in Ecorse to honor the war dead of the Army, Navy and Marines.

Unit president, Mrs. Charles Hurley, gave the invocation and threw a wreath into the water during the rite. Mrs. Feltman and Mrs. Michael Pevorar carried out the roles of unit color bearers.

Mrs. Feltman, who will assume the president's chair in August, will be assisted in office by women from Taylor, Melvindale, Ecorse, Allen Park, Wyandotte and Lincoln Park. A resident of 9757 Van Buren Street, Mrs. Feltman will be sworn in during a joint installation of new post and unit officers on June 19 at the Ecorse Post Memorial Home.

Gifts for the pastor

associate pastor; Jim Stilmach, president of the parish council, and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Skoney, the honoree's parents. The parishioners' monetary gift, a check, was wrapped around one of Father Skoney's favorite cigars which had been hidden in a barrel of "ticker tape."

A proud moment

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Skoney of East Detroit precede their daughter, Sister Mary Alacoque, and son, The Rev. Raymond S. Skoney, down the aisle of St. Anthony's Catholic Church May 30 following a 3 p.m. silver jubilee mass. The Rev. Skoney was honored by members of his parish as well as relatives, friends and visiting clergy on the event of his 25th year in the priesthood. Sister Alacoque, a member of the Sisters of St. Francis in Sylvania, Ohio, is also marking her quarter century as a religious.

Scouts do clean-up duty at camp

Over 400 area Girl Scouts picked up over a quarter ton of roadside trash and planted trees on a recent weekend at Camp Linden, the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council camp in Livingston County.

The Girl Scouts whose national organization has promoted interest in ecology since its formation 1912 put their principles into action by collecting trash along the neighboring roads to the 430 acre campsite, particularly on Cohactah and White Roads.

In addition the Cadette and Senior Scouts planted 200 green ash, tulip and red maple trees at the camp, cleared open spaces of rocks and washed the camp barn. The ecology projects highlighted the Huron Valley Council's Spring Fling, an annual event which brings together teen-age Girl Scouts from Livingston, Washtenaw, western Wayne and northern Monroe counties.

Flag Day observance set

New Boston will share in a nationwide Bicentennial event on Flag Day, June 14, according to Mrs. Edward Wilk of St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

Girl Scout Junior Troop No. 269 and the vacation Bible school children will parade from St. Paul's through town to Violet and Huron River Drive where during a brief ceremony the United States flag will be raised at 12 noon.

At the same time the flag is being raised in New Boston, flags will also be raised in similar ceremonies throughout the country in a mass demonstration of faith in and loyalty to our country.

The public is urged to take a few minutes of its time to help show the world that the citizens of New Boston believe in and back their country. It will be a "Speak Up for America" gesture.

Ostomy Club meets monthly

The Ann Arbor Area Ostomy Association is an organization servicing all of Washtenaw County and is comprised of people having had ostomy surgery. It is estimated that over 2500 persons in the county alone have undergone such surgery as a colostomy, an ileostomy or a urostomy.

The aim of the association is to help every ostomate person return to normal living through mutual aid and moral support. It promotes the education of proper ostomy care, the exchange of ideas and assistance in improving equipment and supplies.

The local chapter has 12 trained volunteer visitors (who have had ostomy surgery) who visit the pre-operative and post-operative patient at the doctor's request. Visits are made possible by calling Mrs. Joyce Fleszar at 439-7715.

Meetings of the group are held on the third Thursday of each month at 7:30 p.m. at the Senior Citizens Guild, 502 W. Huron St., Ann Arbor.

Silver jubilee draws over 1,400 celebrants

By LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

Sunday, May 30, just had to be proof that there IS something to that word called "prayer" for, despite the fact that rain had been predicted, the heavens rained only sunshine and warmth.

Could be, too, that a certain community priest has a secret "in" that most of us don't know about. With 1300 people expected to help celebrate his special day, the weather was a major factor in the plans.

Knowing that their pastor, Fr. Raymond Skoney, would be marking his silver jubilee in 1976, St. Anthony parishioners put their heads together almost a year ago and started the wheels turning for a gala celebration. One member of the Altar Society in particular, Margaret Jahner, took on the gigantic task of sewing matching vestments for the 15 priests who would be sharing the sanctuary and concelebrating mass with the honoree. She also "whipped up" (and what a poor choice of words) special robes for the altar boys to wear for the occasion.

Others kept busy digging up facts and photographic evidence of Fr. Skoney's life from his birth in 1924 to the present time. And while he sojourned in Florida for his annual golf vacation, those same people did a very hush-hush job of compiling a huge "autograph-memory" book to present on the big day. They also took pledges and donations for the monetary gift which was presented on the portico of the school after the 3 p.m. service May 30.

When their tanned pastor returned to Belleville, he in turn, began to plan his silver jubilee and sent out special invitations for the mass, dinner and dance he had been planning in between holes on the golf course. Mrs. Lucille Remus, one of the church's most reliable members, agreed to take on the kitchen detail and on May 30 served 1425 dinners to the honoree's relatives, friends, visiting clergy and parish "family."

In order to accomodate the huge crowd, a mammoth circus-size tent was erected on the school grounds to house most of the diners. Teen members of the parish as well as the Men's Club, Mothers Club, Altar Society and Parish Council saw to cutting the grass and setting up the necessary tables and chairs.

The mass of concelebration opened with the participants entering to "Trumpet Voluntary." The honored priest's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Skoney of East Detroit; his sister, Sister Mary Alacoque of Sylvania, Ohio; and his brothers and their families, Dr. and Mrs. Dan Skoney of St. Clair Shores and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Skoney of East Detroit, took part in the processional along with The Most Rev. Arthur Krawczak, Auxiliary Bishop of Detroit, and 13 visiting priests: The Revs. Mitchell Bednarski, Thaddeus Blaszczyk, Daniel Bogus, Ladislaus Borowski, Edmund Borycz, Joseph Drogowski, Michael Filip, William G. King, Fabian Slominski, Edwin Szczygiel, Richard Ugolik, Edward Wilk, Alexander Wytrwal and Robert Sable.

The Rev. Borycz delivered the homily while bishop Krawczak followed with a few special words.

The silver jubilee concluded with a parish dance at 8 p.m. in the Father Foltz Building where the spotlight was on a trio of enlarged photographs of Fr. Skoney from infancy to adulthood.

In his "Ramblings" column in the church bulletin, Associate pastor, The Rev. Robert Sable summed up the reason for the great warmth his superior generates in his parish. In stressing that Fr. Skoney was indeed a "different" kind of priest he wrote, "I never met a man who could feign the walk of an old man like Barry Fitzgerald in 'The Bells of St. Mary's' and yet get in 18 holes in a quick three hours. He is the only priest I know who occasionally gets cigars in his Sunday Collection. That's different!"

And it was a cigar that was used as the prop for the major gift presented Fr. Skoney on the occasion — a goodly-sized check wrapped around the priest's favorite "stogie."

The anniversary committee wishes to thank Foodville and Beck's Party Store for their donations and George Feitel for his photographic services as well as everyone who contributed in any way to making the day such a great success.

It's June 11

Governor proclaims Tree Planting Day

Governor William G. Milliken has proclaimed June 11 as Centennial-Bicentennial Tree Planting Day in Michigan, a time when scores of communities in the state will be setting a special crop of small sugar maple trees into the ground.

Grown from seeds taken last fall from 100-year-old maples planted near Niles by a farmhand in 1876 in commemoration of the nation's Centennial, the seedlings are being distributed by the Department of Natural Resources to almost 200 local Bicentennial organizations for planting and appreciation by future Michigan citizens during the years of America's third century.

Belleville will be participating in the statewide Tree Planting Day at 7 p.m. June 11 in the new Bicentennial Park currently being completed on High Street along the waterfront. The seedlings will be planted and protected by screening and then carefully tended. Records will be maintained in Lansing to enable historians to follow the growth of these special trees when the Tricentennial observance rolls around.

West Willow salutes nation through song

West Willow Elementary School recently presented its Bicentennial program under the direction of Sue Stahl, vocal music teacher. Held at the Belleville High School auditorium, the kindergarten, first, second and third grade students were featured as were the fifth and sixth grade choir.

The kindergarten group began the program with their rendition of "We Love the U.S.A." and concluded with the spiritual, "When the Saints Go Marching In" led by four students dressed in saintly garb.

"The Hokey Pokey" and "Yankee Doodle" were performed by the first and second graders with Jimmy Van Sickle enacting the part of George Washington.

Sonny Dalton played the title character as "Yankee Doodle Dandy" was sung by the third grade classes along with "You're a Grand Old Flag."

The fifth-sixth grade choir presented "The Star Spangled Banner" featuring Majorie Martin and ended with the "Virginia Reel Folk Dance."

Costumes for the presentation were made by Mrs. Mary Henry, Mrs. Robin Paige, Mrs. Tillie Van Sickle, Mrs. Carol Surago and Mrs. Bonnie Mitchell. Mrs. Linda Hanson, art teacher at the school, was in charge of the art work for the program.

Belleville woman bowls in Denver tourney

By Mrs. Joseph Spring
699-4021

Mrs. Herbert J. (Irene) Smith of High Street returned home recently after competing in the National Bowling Tournament held at Denver, Colo., the mile-high city. Women from every state and five foreign nations, 46,817 in all, competed in the event.

Irene, along with 35 other women from Ypsilanti and the Ann Arbor area, bowled with the "Mighty Michigan Team."

Some of the highlights of the trip were a tour to Pike's Peak, a visit to Colorado Springs and the United States Air Force Academy, and a trip through a gold mine.

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Touse of Roland Street were recent callers on Mrs. Imogene Cole, who has been quite ill at the Methodist Home in Chelsea. They found her condition much improved.

Weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Ransom of West Huron River Drive were the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ransom of Brookfield, Ill. On May 30, all were dinner guests of Mrs. S.C. Pierman of East Huron River Drive in celebration of her daughter, Faith Ransom's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon J. Boldt of Roland Street returned home May 27 after attending the Eagle Triplex Burial Vault Convention held at Hershey, Pa. May 23-25. Among other places visited was the National Cemetery at Gettysburg.

After having served five years with the U.S. Air Force, Sgt. Craig Stabnau, son of the Harvey Stabnaus of Biggs Street, has now retired. Sgt. and Mrs. Stabnau with their sons, Erik and Jared, just recently returned to the States after three years at Zaragoza, Spain. Craig has now enrolled at Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti.

Mrs. Henry Sager and her brother, Marvin Meerse, of West Columbia Avenue, flew to Cincinnati, Ohio, to attend the graduation ceremony at Madeira High School where Mrs. Thor Michael Jacobs was a senior.

Last fall Thor was rated the top football player of 50 high schools in the area and selected as one of the Greater Cincinnati Scholar Athletes for 1975. This coming fall he will be playing on the football team of the University of Nebraska in Lincoln where he will be enrolled as a freshman.

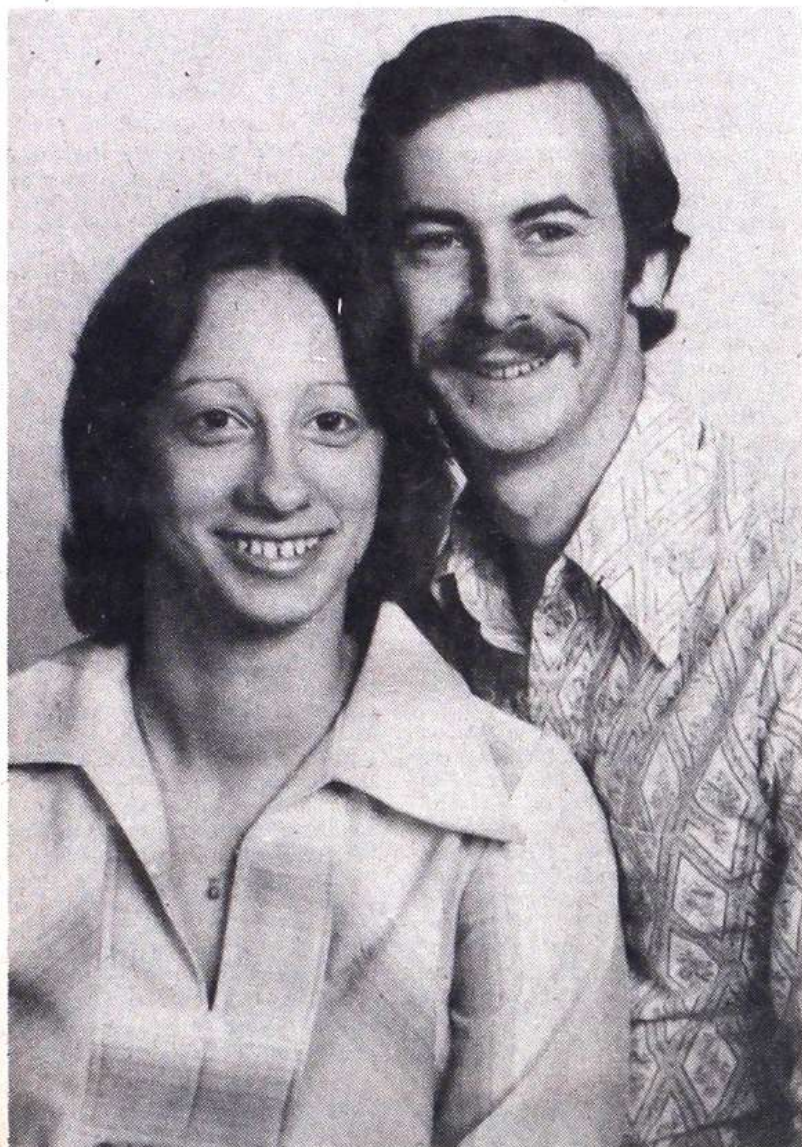

After having undergone recent surgery at Beyer Hospital in Ypsilanti, Mrs. Kenneth (Mable) Ely is now convalescing at her home on Crandall Court.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Orr of Harmony Lane were recent dinner guests of the latter's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. William Pierce of Flint.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Noll of Edison Avenue spent the Memorial Day weekend in Kalamazoo with their son, Dale, who is a student at Western Michigan University. Enroute home Sunday evening they were dinner guests of the Rev. and Mrs. George Woomer at the Chelsea Methodist Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stevens of East Huron River Drive and daughter, Suzann of Liberty Street, were guests of Mrs. Stevens' sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Knoblauch, at the latter's Clam Lake cottage near Bellaire over the holiday weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Touse of Roland Street were recent guests of friends in Trenton, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Truax.

Altar date set

St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church of Waltz has been reserved for the Sept. 4 wedding of Lorrie Lynn Pichan and Thomas Joseph Danowski, both of New Boston. Their engagement and nuptial plans are announced by Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Pichan of 17345 Hannan Rd., New Boston, parents of the bride-elect. Miss Pichan is a 1976 graduate of Huron High School and the Virginia Farrell Beauty School in Lincoln Park. Her fiancé, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Danowski of 21016 Merriman Rd., New Boston, is a 1972 alumnus of Huron High School currently employed at Chico Industries in Romulus.

Send us your bridal information

Want to share that "special day" with those who are unable to be present in person for your wedding ceremony? We'll write the details of your wedding in story form for you — and at no charge — if you'll simply follow a few guidelines.

The Belleville Enterprise and The Romulus Roman offer bridal questionnaires for you to fill out as well as engagement forms for announcing the "start of it all." These forms include all the pertinent questions involved with your marriage or betrothal.

Forms may be picked up at our office, 116 Fourth St., Belleville (we're in the old Township Hall, side entrance) anytime during the week between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

We will also mail forms if a telephone request is made. Call Lee Smith, Suburban Living Editor, at 697-9191.

From camel races to Woody Hayes

Saudi Arabia: Land of contrast

PANAX NEWS SERVICE

Saudi Arabia today is a land of striking contrasts.

One of the world's most modern intercontinental hotels doesn't sell liquor. Jockeys ride race camels. And frantic traffic-bound Arab car drivers blaze away with their auto horns in the streets as the head of Saudi Arabian Television sits calmly in his office attired in flowing robes and Arab headpiece discussing Woody Hayes and the Ohio State Buckeyes.

Dr. Abdul Rahman Al Shobeili, the 33-year-old director general of Saudi TV and a man dedicated to bringing his nation into step with the Western World, is a 1971 PhD graduate of Ohio State University (OSU).

His education at OSU is part of a wide range scheme in preparing highly qualified young people to raise the standards of Saudi TV.

During a recent interview with Dr. Shobeili, a western journalist felt a little like an OSU Buckeye quarterback scrambling for his life. Telephone calls (sometimes two at a time), visitors, staff members and tea servers continually interrupted the conversation. But through it all Dr. Shobeili calmly handled his operational problems with one hand and showed great courtesy to his visitors with the other.

When quizzed about the conservative image Saudi Arabia has due to its Islamic religion and consequent ban on alcohol as well as the traditional lowly role assigned to women, Dr. Shobeili quickly asked the questioner: "Are you trying to compare Cincinnati with Riyadh? If you are, that is a myth of western society."

Having put the question in an intriguing perspective, he went on to point out that Saudi Arabia is "prohibiting exactly what many people in the U.S. would like to prohibit by maintaining standards for the showing of TV sex and violence."

As Dr. Shobeili paused to make a new point, an aide slipped in a side outer office door and fired questions in rapid Arabic. Their conversation was spiced with words that make it fairly easy for a westerner to follow. Words such as telex, cable, television, cameraman and cassette punctuated the discussion.

As the aide swiftly departed with answers to his questions, Dr. Shobeili returned to knocking down myths about Saudi Arabian TV.

"An Egyptian lady recently told me women were not allowed on our network. I told her not only was that not true, but that we have two Saudi girls working on camera and an English lady is a new presenter," he said. The English presenter is a very attractive British blonde, Susan Akad. Her husband is an Egyptian radiologist working in Riyadh and she presents the 8 p.m. English-language news program.

In his role as a U.S.-trained

'At age 10 my education was vastly different...'

electronic journalist, Dr. Shobeili pointed out that it is very difficult to bring modern TV and its new ideas to people in isolated desert areas and to a nation which only allowed women to be educated 15 years ago.

"In fact, I never got the modern type of education myself. At age 10 my education was vastly different from that received by both boys and girls today," he continued.

And education is one matter the Saudis hope to improve with television. They have a plan for a nationwide system of educational programs to assist the local rural schools in teaching their children the basics of reading, writing and arithmetic.

The increased wealth that Saudi Arabia currently is enjoying through its oil fields is being ploughed into such public service projects as television, education and health. This is a nation vigorously striving to capitalize on its natural resources.

Entertainment programs on Saudi TV are on the mild side compared to U.S. standards. No "Kojak" or "Police Story." "My three Sons," "Eddie's Father," and "The Interns" are preferred. ABC's "Wide World of Sports" is a great favorite. On a recent stock car race from Daytona Beach, Bill Fleming's commentary was faded down and the Arabic announcer took over to describe the talents of Dick Petty, Kale Yarborough and other top U.S. drivers.

Great attention also is paid to religious programming in Saudi Arabia.

According to official Ministry of Information statements this is done in view of the prestige enjoyed by the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia "among countries of the Islamic world on the grounds that the Kingdom is entrusted with the Holy Lands and has been the cradle of divine revelation to the Prophet Mohammad, the Messenger of God." To this end, Dr. Shobeili with other Arabic nations is co-sponsoring a 13-week television series on "The World of Islam" which focuses on the religious overtones in Islamic art.

As another round of tea was brought in by a servant in flowing robes, Dr. Shobeili proudly pointed out that one of his daughters was born in Columbus, Ohio; that 90 percent of his staff is Saudi; that 93 percent of Saudi homes have television sets; and that 30 percent have more than one.

All of which further illustrates the striking contrasts in this land which is ruled by King Khaled's Royal Court; holds camel races every Monday afternoon at the horse race track, and finds Mercedes automobiles parked alongside Bedouin tent homes in the desert.

King Khaled has set a lofty goal for his country's television system and for Dr. Shobeili to carry out. American television operators would be staggered by the announced goals of Saudi Arabian Television described in their handbook as follows:

"It is the everlasting objective to turn (television) information into a media of benevolence and construction, a call for truth, justice and peace, whose principles would prevail all over the world through the great Islamic community, the family of Arab countries, or rather all mankind, and would thus summon all those who have faith in the Almighty, and would bring together all those who strive sincerely for a better human future."

Lofty objectives, indeed.

Woody Hayes should especially appreciate the "better human future" part. And if Woody ever tires of relentlessly demanding alumni in Columbus, Ohio, he might find his considerable talents before the TV camera well received by one of his loyal alumnus in Saudi Arabia.

Metropark holds nature 'excursion'

Sunday morning guided nature walks along the trails at Oakwoods Metropark near Flat Rock will be held at 8 a.m. Sunday and June 27.

Those persons interested in taking part in the "Walk with the Pioneers" should meet at the park's nature center.

The hike will be supervised by naturalist Robert Wittersheim and will emphasize the utilization of native plants by the pioneers for food and medicine, as well as some of the folklore handed down from generation to generation.

Insect repellent is advised.

The naturalist-led walks will take from one to two hours.

For further information, contact the Oakwoods Metropark Nature Center at 782-1255.

Wickes: Consumers 'demand' quality, style

When it comes to furniture, Detroit area consumers are different. And to meet the special demands of its buyers in this area, Wickes Furniture has developed a new concept in furnishing homes.

Beginning this week at its three showrooms in Warren, Livonia and Riverview, the furniture concern will provide home decorating centers equipped with everything from floor and ceiling tiles to paints, wallpaper and carpeting to help homemakers decorate their domains.

According to Richard Cotton, senior vice-president of Wickes, Detroit area consumers "not only are style conscious, but also quality conscious", a difference that led officials of the firm to try the everything-for-your-home-under-one-roof concept on the local market.

Cotton attributed the special needs of buyers here to the auto industry, adding that some consumers "actually take and turn the furniture upside-down" to see how it's made.

The vice-president of Wickes Furniture Division, Robert Thele, has worked closely on the new concept and expects the Detroit metropolitan area to "be a challenging test of the complete decorating center" idea.

Thele added that the plan is to show consumers the use of color, textures and accessories in furnishing homes.

Two hundred vignettes combining brand name furniture, and decorating ideas will fill the showrooms of the stores and be changed as furniture "fashion" dictates. Put in a home setting, the displays will allow customers to come back to the showrooms regularly to get new ideas on interior decorating.

Involved in the new concept also is "how to" classes, that show the buyer how to hang wallpaper around windows and corners and other informative demonstrations, allowing the customer to tackle interior remodeling on his or her own.

The three centers also carry the largest line of kitchens in the Midwest with a full array of products from cabinets and counter tops to appliances.

The centers provide bath shop, with vanities, "color" display, featuring Glidden paints, carpeting by Armstrong, Mohawk, Trend Mills and Galaxy, a complete floor factory with tiles and vinyl flooring by Armstrong, ceilings and lighting fixtures, draperies — both ready-made and custom made — blinds, shades and shutters and unfinished furniture.

The stock also includes a 300-foot display of panelling, adhesive, moldings and accessories and 600 ready-to-go selections of wallpaper, along with another 1,200 patterns available by the next day.

And to augment the wide variety of decorating needs available to the customer the firm has trained interior decorators available for free consultations in the stores and for a fee of $25 in the home, with that amount applicable towards a purchase. Thele, however, was quick to add that the firm believes 90 percent of the consultations can be taken care of in the store.

Each of the three centers will have two decorators available, with an added twist being their availability to speak to local groups or women's clubs on decorating.

Overall, the atmosphere at the Wickes store will reflect today and "be tailored to today's fashions," Thele said.

"You're only as happy as your furniture looks in the home," he added. "With our different wall treatments we give the customer the perspective of it being out of a box."

The stores currently are operating under the new concept and are located 29635 Seven Mile Road in Livonia, 6600 E. 12 Mile Road in Warren and 13725 Pennsylvania Road in Riverview.

Firm has origins in machine shop

By BOB CAMPBELL
Panax News Service

Back in 1954 when the Wickes brothers opened a small machine shop in Flint probably not in their wildest dreams could they have envisioned the growth of a billion dollar corporation bearing their name and having stores in 35 states and four foreign countries.

From those humble beginnings to the eventual establishment of international corporate headquarters in San Diego, Cal., Wickes has come home again to pioneer its latest venture.

With the conversion of its Warren, Riverview and Livonia furniture stores to complete home decorating centers, Wickes management now claims to have "the country's largest in-store stock of home furnishings."

The first Wickes Furniture store opened in Minneapolis in 1971. Since then 21 additional stores, including the Warren, Riverview and Livonia stores opening their new decorating centers this week have begun operations in 12 major national markets.

The Detroit Wickes Furniture and Decorating Centers represent a pilot project that will be closely monitored before the corporation expands the concept to its other furniture stores, Thele said.

But that move may be inevitable as Wickes continues its dramatic growth.

During the past 10 years, net corporate sales have more than tripled from $340 million in 1967 to $1.1 billion in 1976.

That surge has resulted both from expansion of existing corporate divisions and diversification into numerous retail lines.

The Wickes Lumber Division, the nation's largest retailer of lumber and building materials, has 35 stores in Michigan and more than 270 stores in 35 states. In the last decade, Wickes has reached into Europe with nine stores in the Netherlands, four in Belgium, four in Great Britain and one in West Germany.

Other corporation ventures include:

— the Yorktowne Division, producing kitchen cabinets and bathroom vanities and specialty furnishings for schools, libraries and other public buildings.

— Lee L. Woodard, produces wrought iron and casual aluminum furniture.

— Recreational Vehicles Division, produces a complete line of recreational vehicles ranging from pickup campers to motor homes marketed under the names "Monitor" and "Swinger."

— Wickes also produces farm buildings and other agricultural products, machine tools, die cast machines and offers a wide range of credit and insurance services.

Sally's send-off

Sally Fay of Belleville, an employee of Romulus' Micro Measurements, is leaving after eight years on the job. Here she received a plaque of appreciation from Jim Starr, upon her retirement. Mrs. Fay, who lives at 42703 E. Huron River Drive, Van Buren Township, will split her retirement location between Higgins Lake and St. Petersburg, Fla. — ANP photo.

Preschoolers finish co-op nursery studies

The daughter of Belleville residents Mr. and Mrs. Edward Steinman has won a scholarship to Albion College in Albion, Mich., and is among scholars in the Belleville-Romulus community excelling in their studies.

Claire Marie Steinman, whose parents live at 14130 Haggerty Road, was awarded a $1,000 scholarship in the fourth annual Project 250 Awards.

Miss Steinman is a junior majoring in art at the college. A member of the Alpha Lambda Delta honorary, she also belongs to the Albion Choir, the International Club and Big and Little Sisters group.

A volunteer at the Albion Day Car Center, she plans to enter the field of child guidance in the area of art therapy.

The award is presented to Albion students for their academic growth, range of activities, leadership, personal goals and recommendations.

Four other residents were cited for academic excellence during the spring quarter at Ferris State College in Big Rapids.

The students — Alice Herhager of Middle Belt, Mark Mittlestat of Merriman and Charles Pearson of Waltz, all of New Boston, and Andre Parson of Moore, Romulus — were named to the academic honors listing at the college.

To be named to the list students must maintain in at least a 3.25 grade point average and carry a full academic load of 14 credit hours.

Marla Doonan of Harmony Lane,

Belleville also was among 23 students from Ferris State who gave up their recent term break to work on a research project in New York City.

All marketing students at the college, the group visited offices associated with the garment industry, fashion magazines, advertising agencies and department stores during the New York visit.

The trip plus class meetings and a term paper will qualify the students for three credit hours in retailing.

Wick gym nights please participants

The last of four parent-child gym nights was held recently at Wick Elementary School in Romulus.

The program, held May 24, included races in which trophies were presented to the winners and scooter races for the victor's trophy.

The evening was planned by the school's physical education department, under the direction of Chris Powers, to provide an opportunity for the parents to use the equipment in the gymnasium, have fun with their youngsters and get some exercise.

Cubs receive honors for work in Scouting

The Cubs of Pack 739 of the Merriman Elementary School in Romulus have received awards for their work in Cub Scouting.

Earning awards are Willard Cianfarani, a 1-year pin and silver arrow; Tedd Gibbs, Webelos colors and book, a silver arrow and a 2-year pin; Brian McLone, Bear book, denner cord, Wolf patch, a gold arrow and silver arrow; and Chris Solak, an assistant denner's cord.

Also earning awards are George O'Boyle Jr., Bear Badge and Bear book; Chris Broadus, Kevin Gilstorf and Darrin Grandison, Webelos books and colors; Will Gholston, Bear book; Hulen Yates Jr., Bear book; David Kovacs, denner's cord; Phil Slaughter, assistant denner's cord; David Blevins, denner's cord, Wolf Badge and Bear book; Joey Cemer, Bear book; James Deboke, assistant denner's cord and Bear book and Thomas Craft, Wolf Badge and Bear book.

Earning their Arrow of Light award were Mike Metevia and Mike MacInnes. The Arrow of Light is the only award which can be taken into Boy Scouting.

Planned for the next few weeks by the pack are a 5-mile hike a kite flying contest in the Pinkney recreation area.

While the Cubs earned awards for their work, some of their parents took on extra work by becoming leaders.

Ron Slaughter, a former den leader, will become assistant cubmaster and Dale Dunlop with Andy Solak acting as assistant will take over the Webelos Den.

ROMULUS COMMUNITY SCHOOLS

County of Wayne, State of Michigan

GENERAL OBLIGATION NOTES

(TAX ANTICIPATION)

SEALED BIDS for the purchase of the above bonds will be received by the undersigned at The Administration Offices located at 36540 Grant Road, Romulus, Michigan, on Wednesday, the 23rd. day of June, 1976, until 7:00 O'Clock p.m., Eastern Daylight Savings Time, at which time and place said bids will be publicly opened and read.

NOTE DETAILS: The notes will be dated July 1, 1976, will mature April 1, 1977, and will bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding 10 percent per annum fixed by the bids therefor. The notes will be in denominations of $5,000.00 or multiples or combinations thereof, designated by the original purchaser of the notes. Interest on the notes will be calculated on a 360 day year (30 day month) basis.

Notes of this issue will not be subject to prior redemption.

PAYING AGENT: Both principal and interest shall be payable at a bank or trust company located in Michigan qualified to act as paying agent under State or United States law, to be designated by the original purchaser of the notes.

PURPOSE AND SECURITY: The notes are issued in anticipation of operating taxes due and payable one-half on July 1, 1976, and one-half on December 1, 1976. The first collections of said taxes are required to be set aside in a separate depository account until the amount so set aside is sufficient for payment of principal and interest on the notes herein offered and any other notes hereafter issued in anticipation of said taxes. In case of the insufficiency of the taxes pledged for the payment thereof the School District is required to pay the notes from any funds legally available therefor, and, if necessary, levy sufficient taxes on all taxable property in the School District for the payment thereof, without limitation as to rate or amount.

GOOD FAITH: A certified or cashier's check in the amount of 2 percent of the par value of the notes drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer of the School District must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid be accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the notes. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail.

AWARD OF NOTES: The notes will be awarded to the bidder whose bid produces the lowest interest cost computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified in the bid, the total dollar value of all interest on the notes from July 1, 1976, to their maturity and deducting therefrom any premium. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the notes or at a price less than 100 percent of their par value will be considered.

LEGAL OPINION: Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified approving opinion of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, attorneys of Detroit, Michigan, which will be furnished without expense to the purchaser of the notes at the delivery thereof.

DELIVERY OF NOTES: The School District will furnish notes ready for execution at its expense. Notes will be delivered without expense to the purchaser at Detroit, Michigan or a place to be mutually agreed upon.

THE RIGHT IS RESERVED TO REJECT ANY OR ALL BIDS.

ENVELOPES: containing the bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for Notes."

By Chester Kosin

Only a relatively small part of an automatic transmission is occupied by the gears. Did you know that most of the space is filled by the versatile torque converter and a system of clutches and brake bands that activate the proper gear ratios to provide power to the output shaft? When the transmission selector is set in the drive position, pressurized oil courses through a complex series of valves in the valve body. These valves open and close automatically, according to the engine's speed and load.

Whether you are looking for engine parts or brake linings, you'll find everything you need to keep your car running at its best at KOSIN'S AUTO PARTS, 26831 Michigan, Inkster. We feature a full line of quality parts for foreign and domestic cars, as well as the tools and equipment to help you get the job done. Known as the "House of a Million Parts", we have a tremendous inventory and can help to select the proper parts for your particular car. We also offer expert machine shop service. Call us at 563-3894. We are open daily from 8 A.M. until 8 P.M., Saturdays until 5 P.M.

AUTO FACT:

Most experts agree that a sedan is the most solidly built type of car.

Keep berries from birds

Tired of watching the birds harvest your strawberries and cherries? Try covering the fruit with nets.

Horticulturists at Michigan State University warn there is no chemical that will safely repel birds. Bird netting on a frame over your strawberry patch or over the limbs of your cherry tree is about the only sure way to save the fruit from the birds.

Be sure the net does not lie directly on the fruit, the horticulturists cautioned. Birds will peck right through it and ruin the fruit.

If you're covering a tree with netting, be sure to tie the netting tightly around the trunk. If you don't, the birds will fly under the netting and up into the tree to feed.

ROMULUS COMMUNITY SCHOOL DISTRICT NOTICE TO ELECTORS

To the qualified Electors of the Romulus Community School District:

Notice is hereby given that ABSENTEE VOTER'S BALLOTS are now available for the Annual June School Election to be held on June 14, 1976, and may be obtained from the Office of the Romulus City Clerk, 11111 Wayne Road, for electors who expect to be absent from the community, physically disabled, cannot attend the polls because of the tenets of their religion, or are 60 years of age or older.

Notice is further given that Saturday, June 12, 1976 is the deadline for acceptance of Absentee Ballot Applications, in accordance with Section 168.759 of the Michigan Compiled Laws of 1946, as amended. The City Clerk's Office will be open from 9:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. for acceptance thereof.

EMERGENCY ABSENTEE VOTER'S APPLICATIONS will be issued to any registered elector at any time prior to 4:00 p.m. on Election Day if he/she shall have become physically disabled or shall be absent from the Romulus Community School District because of sickness or death in the family which has occurred at a time which has made it impossible to apply for Absentee Voters Ballots by the statutory deadline.

For novice, experienced paddlers

Three rivers offer beauty and excitement

Few canoeable streams in the state can match the blend of beauty, excitement and history found along Michigan's Pere Marquette, Big and Little Manistee and Pine rivers for Western Wayne County enthusiasts.

With more than 2,000 canoes available for up to two weeks' travel on more than 500 miles of water, those streams offer both novice and experienced paddlers the chance to lose themselves in nature while learning of the state's past.

Of the four, the Pere Marquette is the southernmost and easiest to canoe, with no portages or rapids. It took its present name from Fr. Jacques Marquette, 17th Century French missionary-explorer who died on a bluff near present-day Ludington.

Rising from fingerling creeks near Baldwin in Lake County, the "PM's" main stream surges to life a few miles south of that village, just east of the M-37 bridge.

Baldwin is canoe headquarters for the river, with 700 craft at four liveries available for up to a week's journey 100 miles downstream to Ludington, with rentals from $6 and $7 daily. Day-long trips chosen by most take paddlers from the M-37 public access site 20 miles and four hours later to Bowman's Bridge on Carrs Road.

Both brown and rainbow trout are abundant here and the 7-mile-per-hour current quickly takes canoeists along high banks dotted with fishing lodges.

Those preferring quiet water can rent canoes at Branch or Walhalla, 15 and 20 miles west on US-10, respectively. A livery also is in Ludington.

While much of the upper river was too shallow for logging, the lower half was a prime route to Ludington's mills. Named after a pioneer lumberman who owned the first mill there in 1849, Ludington was one of the state's busiest mill towns, and at its peak in 1892 cut 152 million feet of lumber annually.

Canoeists can help Ludington celebrate its past and the Bicentennial when that city opens its Pioneer Village, a reconstruction of 19th Century homes and shops. A July 4th celebration follows, with a parade, fireworks and choral sings. The city's harvest festival is in mid-September. Baldwin holds its annual Troutarama Festival in late July.

Both state and national forest campsites are available at six spots downstream from Baldwin. A city park for day or overnight use is at Scottsville.

Only 16 miles north of Baldwin are three rivers, each still relatively untouched by civilization.

The Little Manistee River flows cool and deep from Luther to Manistee and is perfect water for novice or expert. Trips from several hours to four days are offered from Solberg's Marina at Manistee for $7 daily rental.

Brown and rainbow trout are found in the river from M-37 bridge downstream and spring anglers will find its gravel bars covered with steelhead in April and May.

Many canoeists rate the neighboring Pine River as one for better paddlers only. It probably is the most traveled of the four, with more than 900 canoes available from at least seven liveries in Baldwin, Manistee and near Wellston.

Trips from two to 14 hours take canoeists through enough turns and fast water to satisfy almost anyone. The river is shallow near Edgett's Bridge southwest of Cadillac off US-131, but it quickly changes mood, growing deep and strong by the time it passes Peterson Bridge off M-37, site of one of four campgrounds.

If they wish, the river will take travelers to the Big Manistee after a short portage around the Stronack power dam.

If the Pere Marquette was a main water route for loggers, the Big Manistee was a superhighway. In 1892 alone, it fed the 23 giant sawmills at Manistee enough timber practically to circle the globe twice.

Scene of some of the most roaring log drives in the state, the river still yielded a hefty supply of sunken logs until the 1950s. Canoeists can rent craft at nine liveries from Frederic to Manistee, with trips from four hours to 10 days for $6 to $10 daily.

Nine state and national forest campsites are spaced evenly along its banks starting north of M-72 near Grayling.

Owen seeks third term in Legislature

State Rep. Gary Owen (D-22nd District) has announced that he will seek re-election to a third term in the Michigan House of Representatives.

Owen, whose district includes Belleville, Van Buren Township, Ypsilanti and Ypsilanti Township and a portion of the City of Romulus, said he would base his re-election effort on legislative record during his previous two terms.

"I feel that I have represented the interests of all of the people of the 22nd District," Owen added. "I have, to the best of my ability, made myself available to my constituents at all times and I will continue to do so. It has been my objective to be their voice in Lansing."

Owen serves on the House's Appropriations Committee and chairs the Higher Education and Regulatory sub-committees of that panel.

A former Ypsilanti Township trustee, he holds degrees from Washtenaw Community College and the University of Michigan.

RHS '66 class plans reunion

The 1966 graduating class of Romulus Senior High School will be holding its 10-year reunion on Oct. 23 at Lerights Banquet Hall in Westland.

The reunion committee, which consists of Marge Block Bergman, Linda Hutchinson Druyor, Joyce Ryznar Kilanski, Jane Ryznar Camilli, Tom and Lisa Zbikowski, Candy Wonn Walters, Dorothy Jesse Sova and Chuck Hall, have arranged for the festivities to begin at 6:30 p.m. with cocktails. A smorgasbord dinner at 7:30 p.m. will be followed by dancing at 9 p.m.

Tickets for the reunion cost $30 per couple.

Members of the Class of 1966 which the committee has been unable to locate are asked to contact Mrs. Bergman at 941-3090.

RHS honoree attends movie

A Romulus Senior High School student recently attended a special showing of the film dealing with the Watergate investigation, "All the President's Men", after being honored for his achievement in the field of journalism.

Stuart Kerr joined 42 other students from throughout the Detroit metropolitan area in attending the screening.

The student achievement awards were sponsored by Warner Bros.

Lice, scabies outbreaks plague area schools

If you've ever been involved personally with those infamous "Latin lovers" Sarcoptes Scabi and Pediculus Capitis, you probably know where the terms "nit picking" and "seven-year itch" came from.

According to Dr. Jane Polkowski, director of the Communicable Disease Control Division of the Wayne County Health Department, outbreaks of the two parasites have been reported in several elementary schools in the county and the number of cases may surpass last year's total.

The parasites make their home on the human body and are spread from person to person either through direct physical contact — usually the case with scabies — or from contact with the bed linens, combs, hats and clothing of the infected person — often the case with head lice.

In the case of scabies, the pregnant female parasite burrows into the horny layers of the skin and remains there unless scratched out. Egg laying begins within a few hours and continues for about one to two months. The larvae hatch in two to three days and in two weeks are ready to reproduce.

The scabi infection usually is found between the web of the fingers, on the wrists or elbows. It also can be found at the belt line, thighs, breast, abdomen and lower portion of buttocks in women, as well as other areas, and in very young children all parts of the body may be involved.

Intense itching, especially at night, is characteristic of the infection. The tiny mites are impossible to see with the naked eye, and microscopic identification is necessary.

Head lice are closely related to their cousins, the body louse and crab louse. Most people get the disease by using the personal article of an infected person which comes in direct contact with the head, such as a comb, brush, pillow or car seat. Lice also are locomotive and may crawl from one article of clothing to another.

Lice are small, grayish white, wingless bugs about the size of tiny ants. Head lice attached their eggs to hair shafts with a gluey substance, making it hard to remove them.

Since the bugs live on human blood, bite marks may appear, a sign of the infection. However, the first sign usually is intense itching.

And once the infection starts, it can spread very quickly.

"Kwell shampoo often is used for head lice," said Dr. Polkowski. She added that some over-the-counter drugs also may be effective. The doctor also recommended using a fine tooth comb to remove any remaining nits.

She added that persons suffering from scabies usually are directed to their family physician or the county health department. Personal items also should be washed in hot water and dried in a hot dryer. Any article of clothing that cannot be laundered or dry-cleaned can be placed in a plastic sack, sealed and stored for two weeks. By then the mites and lice will have starved to death.

The doctor also advised that since the two parasites can be passed easily, any child with the infection should be kept out of school until he or she has begun treatment.

Autograph party for books will aid Children's Museum

"I Love Popcorn" and "I Love Ice Cream", two new cookbooks for children and the young at heart by Carolyn Vosburg Hall will be introduced at an autograph party on Saturday from 1 to 4 p.m. at the Children's Museum at 67 E. Kirby, Detroit.

The affair is being sponsored by the Children's Museum Friends, and all profits from the sale of the books will be used for special projects at the museum.

Mrs. Hall's favorite childhood memory is of evenings at home with a new stack of books from the library and her father's freshly popped corn for the family to munch while they read.

That gave her the idea to write "I Love Popcorn" in conjunction with the editors of the "Farm Journal".

At the editors suggestion "I Love Ice Cream" followed.

Mrs. Hall, the author of "Stitched and Stuffed Art", has degrees in painting and design from the Cranbrook Academy of Art. She has taught both children and adult classes and her many 1-woman shows and awards attest to her skill and ingenuity.

"I Love Popcorn" not only is a book of creative recipes for young people and their families, but a treasure of historic information.

Popcorn kernels found in a Mexican bat cave may have been as old as 5,600 years, and scientists believe that the earliest cultivated corn was popcorn.

Mrs. Hall encourages her readers to enjoy the many uses of popcorn while emphasizing the need to treat a hot stove with respect. Her suggestions include everything from buttery popcorn, how to give a popcorn party, to popcorn on a stick,

Easter egg popcorn and even popped art.

In "I Love Ice Cream", the young cook can learn that Americans eat more than a billion quarts of ice cream a year—more than any other people in the world.

Recipes include those that are found at the soda fountain and enticing chapter headings read, "Fountains and Floats", "Ice Cream Inventions", and one entitled "Would you Eat a Moose" tells about how to make an ice cream moose.

Both of the books are illustrated by Mrs. Hall.

Ice cream and popcorn are American as apple pie and the Children's Museum is an appropriate background for this autograph party. It is the third oldest children's museum in the United States. It is an educational unit of the Detroit Public Schools and is open to the general public weekday afternoons and Saturdays.

The museum offers a variety of programs, projects and workshops for young people from kindergarten through the 12th grade. The exhibits appeal directly to their interests and relate to their school subjects.

"I Love Popcorn" and "I Love Ice Cream" can be purchased at the autograph party, or ordered by mail at the prepublication price of $4.95. If ordered by mail a check made out to the Children's Museum Friend at 67 E. Kirby, Detroit 48202 should be enclosed with your name and address, plus 50 cents for mailing.

First undefeated season recorded

Girls' track is alive and well at Glenn

The height of optimism is when a track team breaks seven out of 14 school records and its coach flatly states there's a good chance that the balance of the existing marks will be smashed next season.

Coach Cheryl Caughey (pronounced Coy-hy) is not one to brag. She's confident that her Westland John Glenn High School girls' track team, which went undefeated in dual competition this year, can equal or better this season's record.

With only one graduating senior, Caughey has the hardened nucleus to win the state crown. At least she's going all out to achieve that singular honor.

"This year's team was the best team that I have ever coached and has to be one of the strongest teams John Glenn has ever had," she declared.

The team was strong in the dashes and relays, so next year Caughey said she will work more with the distance runners "and break the existing records."

The Glenn girls' tracksters enjoyed their first undefeated season since they began competition four years ago.

Among their conquests were solid wins over Garden City West, Dearborn Fordson, Garden City East, Wayne, Livonia Thurston, North Farmington, Dearborn Edsel Ford, Livonia Churchill, Livonia Franklin, Northville and Livonia Stevenson.

Glenn captured the league meet, won the Class "A" trophy at the Alma Invitational, finished second in the Bishop Borgess Invitational and came in behind Ann Arbor Huron in the state Class "A" regionals at Ypsilanti High School. Huron edged Glenn, 36-34.

Glenn participated in 18 meets this season, the most ever for the school's girls' track squad.

Probably the strongest suit Caughey could deal was her relay teams, all three of which were undefeated in dual meet competition.

Glenn loses only one senior, but she's been a spectacular performer.

Karen McDougall has accepted a full athletic scholarship from Eastern Michigan University, where she will attempt to improve on her track achievements.

During her prep career, Karen has competed in four events during every meet for three years and in most of them has taken either a first or second place. She also has performed well in state meets.

Karen has the second fastest time in the area in the 440 with a clocking of 59.3, and also anchors the 440-yard relay and 880-yard relay teams.

Eight Glenn tracksters were in action over the weekend at the state meet.

The 880, composed of Karen McDougall, Kathy McDougall, Debbie Everley and Cheryl Williams, has one of the fastest times in the state at 1:44 (a new school record).

The 440, comprising the McDougalls, Cheryl Williams, and Kathy Lehman, has a time of 50 seconds (a new school record).

Unsung competitors

Posing proudly with three of the trophies they won this year are members of the undefeated John Glenn High School girls' track team. The big trophy in the center is for finishing first in the Alma Invitational, while the prizes at the left and right are for first- and second-place finishes in the league meet and the Bishop Borgess Invitational, respectively. Members of the team are (front row, from left) Ann Hage, Kim Wintersteen, Lori Logan, Lori Utsman, Mari Alyce Grix, Cheryl Williams, Kathy Lehman, Debbie Robinson and Karen McDougall; (second row, from left) Laura Gambino, Carin Curnutte, Diahann Lalng, Jeannine Gwizdak, Marsha Maness, Michelle Brett, Michelle Murphy, Terri Dickson, Kathy Dickson, Debbie Everley and Colleen Grimes; (back row, front left) Coach Cheryl Caughey, Sally Taylor, Rachelle Swanson, Debbie Holton, Diana Caudill, Debbie Conboy, Leslie Chicky, Kathy McDougall, Cheryl Albert, Jeannette Gwizdak, Team Manager Laura Proctor and Assistant Coach Jacquie Norton. — Eagle photo by Lothar Konietzko.

KAREN McDOUGALL

The mile relay team has negotiated a 4:08.5 (a new school record), fashioned by Michelle Brett, Leslie Chicky, Rachelle Swanson and Debbie Everley.

Two other state meet competitors were Kathy McDougall and Cheryl Williams in the 220-yard dash. Their times are 25.5 and 26.2, respectively.

In addition to the record-setting relay marks, the other school track records established in 1976 belong to:

Debbie Conboy, discus, 95'7"; Lori Logan, 110-yard hurdles, 16.1; Karen McDougall, 440-yard dash, 59.3, and Kathy McDougall, 220-yard dash, 25.5.

Miss Caughey's assistant is Mrs. Jacquie Norton.

Women's softball players produce avalanche of runs

The Wayne Parks and Recreation Department's women's softball league got under way recently with four games that produced more runs (85) than hits (73).

J and D Auto Parts took apart Mac's Tools, 27-8, with Cheryl Solitis Rose Bolone, Bea Bassett each smacking a home run and two singles. Mary Miller also connected for a four-bagger. Bassett drove in four runs, as did Ginny Hawthorne for Mac's Tools. J and D sent 17 players to the plate in the fifth inning — and 11 scored. Gay Diehl scored five times and Balone, four.

Demmer's dropped Burghuff's, 16-13, on only six hits. Jackie Wilson tripled and drove in a run, and single, runs also were driven in by Carol McCallum and Linda Robb. Demmer's capitalized on 12 walks at the expense of Burghuff's Debbie Halsey.

Hope Care defeated Jake's Lounge, 9-4, with the big blow being a three-run homer by Diana Williams. Teammate Diane Richardson drove in two runs in a winning cause.

J and D scored a second win by bumping Flim Flam, 12-6. Rose Bolone rapped out three singles, good for two RBIs. Jan Plevik contributed two singles for the winning team. J and D's Bea Bassett was the winning pitcher, doling out only five hits.

A 'don' good demonstration

Hawthorne erupts

Hawthorne Valley scored 21 runs on 22 hits as it blitzed Wayne County General Hospital, 21-13, in a game played recently in the Men's Minor Red Division of the Westland Parks and Recreation Department's Slowpitch Softball League.

Other contests saw George Smith Really squeeze by Wayne Motor Supply, 9-8 and Red Door Lounge eke out a 14-13 win over Johnny's Union '76.

Hawthorne's John Vosloh singled once and doubled three times and drove in five runs in his team's effort. Teammate Gary Longwell belted two hits, including a home run, good for four RBIs. Pitcher "Catfish" Meikle took the win. Smolarek drove in three runs on three hits for Wayne County.

George Smith was led by Perkins and Schnarr, each with three hits, and Kaufman, who drove in three runs on two hits. Schnarr was the winning pitcher. Ron Hallis had three hits for the losers.

M. Szymansky rapped out four hits and drove in three runs for Red Door, while E. Lindberg contributed three singles. Picking up the win was pitcher E. Rasmussen. The losing team was led by Sharp, with four hits and J. Stivers, with three.

Robichaud's Charleston is 'B' long-jump champ

Dearborn Heights Robichaud High School produced a first, a second and three third-place winners in racking up 39 points, which was good for second place in the Michigan Class "B" high school track finals Saturday.

Flint Beecher just edged out Robichaud by compiling 42 points. Wyoming Park finished third with 25 points.

Robichaud's Everett Charleston placed first in the long jump with a leap of 22 feet 3 1/2 inches, while Victor Huguley copped second in the 120-yard high hurdles with a time of 14.3. Earlier in the preliminary heats, Huguley set a state record with a clocking of 14.1.

Robichaud's 440, 880 and mile relay teams picked up the third place finishes, with respective times of .44, 1:30.6 and 3:25.9.

Members of the 440-yard relay team were Bruce Swasey, Duane Ross, Mark Woodson and Huguley. Huguley, Woodson, Charleston and Johnny Allen comprised the 880, and Paul Artison, David Matthews, Charleston and Allen were on the mile relay team.

Hansen, Neibert place in finals

Brett Hansen, a member of the Wayne Memorial High School boys' track team, captured second place in the 120-yard high hurdles during the finals of the Michigan Class "A" track meet held Saturday at Houseman Field in Grand Rapids. Hansen posted a time of 14.6.

At the girls' Class "A" track finals at Bloomfield Hills Lahser Saturday, Wayne Memorial's Lisa Neibert took third place in the high jump with a leap of 5 feet 5 inches, while Debbie Berry placed sixth in the long jump with an effort of 17 feet one-quarter inch.

Men vs. women in charity game

Who's better in a game of softball, men or women?

Officials and employees at Romulus City Hall will find out next Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at Elmer Johnson Park. The big winner however, will be muscular dystrophy research, to which proceeds from the game will go.

Two teams made up of city officials and city employees will square off in the charity game.

No admission charge will be asked, but donations will be accepted.

The 7:30 p. m. time is a change from the 8:30 p. m. time which previously was announced in last week's editions of the Associated Newspapers.

Garden City grad stars for Hillsdale

John Yurchis, a graduate of Garden City East High School, has been a stellar performer for three years for the Hillsdale College track team as a top distance runner.

Possessor of an All-America ranking from the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA), Yurchis was unable to compete in the NAIA or NCAA nationals this year because of sickness.

He finished 11th in the NAIA cross-country nationals in 1974 to earn All-America status.

An All-State, All-Area and All-League when he was in high school, Yurchis holds four track records at Hillsdale: Indoor 2 mile (9:11) and 3 mile (14:11), and outdoor 2 mile (9:25.2) and 6 mile (29:26.7). He also was voted as one of the tri-captains of the 1976 cross country team.

Frantz sets career homer mark at UD

Gar Frantz, a graduate of Livonia Franklin, slammed 5 home runs for the University of Detroit Titan baseball team this season to set a new career home run record of 12. Frantz, who played first base, was a member of a team that finished with a 28-20 record, the second highest win total in U-D baseball history.

Spring gets a lot of false starts every year. But when the ladybird beetles, commonly called "lady bugs," show up, that's really it.

Numbering into the millions and in a number of varieties, this tiny beetle scurries from its winter hiding place and begins to feed on aphids and other minute plant pests. Here, indeed, is a bug that doesn't bug mankind — instead, it does nothing but good work. It is doubtful whether there is a more helpful insect on earth.

Strictly a meat-eater, the ladybug never nibbles on the housewife's begonias or beans. From the standpoint of an aphid that is sucking the life out of a valuable plant, the ladybird beetle is anything but a lady. It is a fierce predator and has a huge appetite despite its tiny size. Ladybirds gobble up every aphid they can find and think nothing of downing 50 in a day.

Better than any amount of DDT or other persistent pesticide, the colorful little ladybug is often purposely released in garden areas or in huge numbers on large farms to help control other, harmful bugs. A number of companies rear ladybird beetles and sell them by the pint for this very purpose at rather reasonable rates.

There are also areas where the little red-shelled bugs with the black spots can be obtained from the wild. Some years ago, while doing some climbing around a mountain peak in South Dakota's Black Hills, I ran across a rocky area that was literally covered with ladybird beetles. Whether they were there laying eggs or had just hatched out and mated, I don't know but there were millions of the little red rascals. Each female, incidentally, can lay 1,500 eggs.

One variety of Australian ladybird even rates as a heroine. In the late 1860's cottony-cushion scales migrated to the United States and proved to have an insatiable appetite for citrus fruit. With no natural enemy here, it threatened to destroy entire orange groves. Entomologists rushed to Australia and came back with the Vedalia ladybird beetle and in only two years the scales were under control.

As might be expected, there are also bad actors in the ladybird family. The Mexican bean beetle, for example, munches its way from one garden to another and has spread all over the United States and part of Canada. The squash beetle is another unwanted family member.

Red ladybirds, as well as the yellow ones which also have black spots, prefer plant lice on the menu. The other main type, black with bright spots, enjoys scale insects. All look somewhat like a shiny, round jewel cut in half.

About that old rhyme, "Ladybug, fly away home, your house is on fire and your children will burn" — that is from Britain. There, in late summer hop vines were burned to get rid of plant lice. Ladybird beetles on the same plants were advised to flee with their young. It was good advice.

Wayne football co-captains

Wayne State University's 1976 football co-captains are (left) senior fullback Mike Stankovich (Warren-Centerline) and senior linebacker Keith Anleitner (Garden City East). Each is a three time Tartar letter winner, with Anleitner having been WSU's leading tackler for each of his three seasons, a 1976 All-Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (GLIAC) choice and a 1976 All-America candidate. WSU was 8-3-0 last season in copping the GLIAC title in its first season of play, and will face a 10-game schedule this fall, including five conference games in defense of its crown.

Wayne girls' softball team excels in first year of play

Wayne Memorial High School's girls' fast pitch softball team has put together an overall 10-5 record in its first year of competition, according to Coach Ginger Gabriel.

On the eve of pre-district play, Wayne was tied with Dearborn Fordson for second place in the Great Lakes Athletic Association standings. Each had records of 5-4. Wyandotte led the league with a 6-3 mark, while Lincoln Park (4-4), Riverview (4-5) and Monroe (3-6) brought up the rear.

The squad has won seven out of the last eight games played, including a 19-8 triumph over Riverview, an 13-1 shellacking of Wyandotte and a 19-9 blasting of Farmington Harrison in the pre-district opener.

"Typical of a first year team or a young team, our start wasn't all that spectacular," Ms. Gabriel said.

"The big turning point in the season was beating John Glenn" (by an 8-5 score), she added.

Against Farmington Harrison Debbie Karznia got three hits, including a home run and a triple, and batted in five runs. Contributing two hits each were Mary Trayner, Brenda Schwartz, Sue Mara, Cheri Fargo, Wendy Reynolds and Carol Hammell. The winning pitcher was Carol Hammell, who also hit a home run.

Over the season Carol Hammell has compiled a 6-3 pitching record.

Pitching mates Renee Burnie, 2-1 and Melonie Kozorsky, 2-0, have come on strong.

Carol is the only member of the team who had previously played fast pitch softball. A senior, Carol, and three other teammates recently were honored for their performances. The others were Senior Brenda Schwartz, Junior Sue Mara and Sophomore Mary Trayner.

Brenda is swinging the bat at a 700 clip, while Sue is socking the ball to the tune of .575.

Dolphin Club sets tryout

A second open tryout session will be held by the Wayne Recreation Dolphin Swim Club Monday at Attwood Pool, Ann Arbor and Howe, Monday between 9 and 11 a.m.

More than 75 youngsters from 7 to 18 years of age attended tryouts on May 18, but because of a heavy school and recreation schedule, club directors felt many others were unable to attend.

The tryout, which is open to any Wayne and Westland youth who will eventually attend Wayne Memorial High School, is being staged on the first day of a pre-practice warm-up week for established members of the club.

Regular practice sessions will begin on June 21 and members of the teams have been assigned times to try out. An applicant must bring a towel and a suit, but he or she does not have to register before being accepted.

Coaches for the summer program, which includes more than a dozen events, are Jim McPartlin, Dirk Johnston and Dave Santure, who will be at Attwood Pool. In addition, McPartlin and Dick Fisch will conduct an instructional class at Wayne High School.

Read named director of CYO

Ron Read, associate director of the Catholic high school league, has been chosen to succeed Frank Connolly as the athletic director of the Detroit Catholic Youth Organization.

Read will assume his new duties July 1. Connolly is retiring June 30 after 30 years as boss of the huge CYO sports network.

Read's credentials are impressive. He served for the past year as the assistant to Walt Bazylewicz in operating the busy Catholic high school sports program.

Prior to that, he had spent 11 years at Dearborn Sacred Heart high school as coach, athletic director, teacher and assistant principal. He was the head football coach for eight years, compiling a 57-14-1 record and winning four division championships. In 1968 he was named "coach of the year" by the Detroit News.

He was the varsity baseball coach for five years, guiding his charges to two titles. He had his team over .500 in two seasons as head basketball coach.

In 1967, Read became the school's athletic director. Three years later he took on added duties as assistant principal. When Dearborn Sacred Heart closed its high school in the Spring of 1975, Read moved to the Catholic high school office.

The new CYO athletic director holds a B. S. in education from U. of D., and an M. A. in education from Eastern Michigan. He played four years of football at U. of D., the last two as a first string guard and linebacker.

Read, 35, is married and the father of four. The family are members of St. Damian's parish in Westland.

Steve Foster, Wayne cyclist, wins pro event

Steve Foster, of Wayne, made a clean sweep Saturday night in the pro class motorcycle race at the E-Z Rider Raceway in Milan.

Foster won both his heats and then the main event to earn the first place trophy and a cash award.

Other area riders who scored well were Charlie Beavers and Jerry Powers, both of Belleville, who placed third and fourth, respectively, in the 360 B Class.

Donna David, of Garden City, won the powder puff event.

Belleville youth wins Olympic medals

Bob Pierce, son of Bill Pierce, of Belleville, won two silver medals Saturday in the Special Olympics held at Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant.

The 17-year-old swimmer took second place in the 25-yard free style and was a member of the second-place 100-yard relay team.

Pierce, who attends High Point school in Ann Arbor, possesses some 25 medals and ribbons for top performances in swimming, as well as track and bowling.

Slowpitch softball grabs the headlines!

Powerhouses pace Romulus women

The East Division of the Romulus Department of Parks and Recreation's Women's Slowpitch Softball League appears to have two powerhouses this season in the Polka Dot Party Store and Solventol's Odd Squad.

Both teams steamrolled their competition over the weekend, with Polka Dot blasting the Green Briar Grizzlies, 29-7, and putting down the Hustlers, 14-5, and the Odd Squad trampling Kerrettes, 24-3, and Dean and Co., 17-7.

Polka Dot's win over the Grizzlies was accented by the stellar hitting of Delta Adams, Debbie Oldham, Lori Wright and Dawn Jernigan, each of whom rapped out four hits, including a homer by Oldham and two doubles apiece by Wright and Jernigan. The winner pitcher was Delores Trevino. In Polka Dot's win over the Hustlers, Oldham and Jernigan continued their heavy slugging, blasting out three hits apiece. Pitcher Margaret Ayers held the Hustlers at bay to gain the win.

Solventol wasted no time in going after Kerrettes, scoring three runs in the first inning and five in the second. Pat Holcomb's five hits led the way, but the big run producers were Bev Yurchuk who drove in six with a pair of four-baggers and Debbie Dick, who scored four runners with two round-trippers. Debbie Moomaw also collected four RBIs on three hits. The winning pitcher was Bertha Sterling.

The night before, the Odd Squad disposed of Dean and Co. by scoring in every inning. Pat Dick, with a home run, two triples and a single led the attack, but she received solid help from JoLynn DeBuyscher, who rapped out four singles. Bertha Sterling picked up the win.

In West Division action, Baldo's Stingers showed why they have to be reckoned with this season after pounding out an 18-1 win over Captain Nemo's.

Great pitching by Carol Johnson, who gave up just four hits, and almost flawless defense, combined with heavy slugging, brought the winners seven runs in the very first inning. Nancy Miller opened the scoring with a homer and was supported by Evie Bordt who cracked round-trippers in the third and fourth stanzas. Carol Fehmie and Pauline Stephens also contributed key hits with runners on. Each of the women chalked up four hits with Bordt taking RBI honors with six.

Jean Niedermeyer's home run and single brought in five runs as her Spirits of '76 barely edged the 69ers, 12-11. Niedermeyer slammed a three-run homer in the top of the eighth, and it eventually proved to be the winner. Jan Kampson earned the win.

Baum's Funeral Home topped the Young Pioneers, 9-8, when, with the bases loaded in the last of the 7th inning, the losing pitcher walked in the winning run. Baum's hitting was led by Mary Dziedzic, who went 4-for-4 on a homer and three singles, with four runs batted in. Vickie Brainerd and Denise Gabany each pounded out three hits.

Six straight hits in a seven-run fifth inning carried 2001 to a 10-5 win over Dino's. Annie Flowers, the winning pitcher, was backed up by Marge Glazier and Sharon Howie, each of whom drove in four runs on two triples and a single and double, respectively.

3 teams still undefeated in Canton

In the Canton Township Slow Pitch Softball League, Clark Block and Little Caesars remained the only undefeated teams in the B Division this week as both teams won convincingly.

Clark Block took care of Good's Nursery 26-10 as Doug Reynolds pounded, out four hits, including three doubles and a triple, to pace the 27 hit attack. The game was actually put away early as Clark scored 14 runs in the first two innings and substitutes took over from there.

Little Caesars defeated Dearborn Fabricating 10-2, scoring eight runs in the first inning to leave no doubt that they are one of the teams to beat this year. In the first inning, Rhondo Williams, in his first at bat in two weeks because of a leg injury, pounded a three-run homer into the trees to give Little Caesars all they needed for the night. Jim Raimier also contributed three safeties, including a triple.

In other "B" action, shortened because of Memorial Day and the Plymouth-Canton Tournament, Star Furniture defeated K-Mart, 14-7 and Good's Nursery, 22-9. Strock beat Deer Creek, 13-8, and Deer Creek came back to shut-out K-Mart, 11-0, for their first win of the year behind the four-hit pitching of Dave Stironck.

In the "A" Division, McMurray remained the only undefeated team as they beat Plymouth Construction, 14-6, with a 17-hit attack. Marty Blivens, Bill Harrigan, and Mike Dudley all contributed three hits apiece and Bernie Jackson belted another long home run, which has been a common occurrence this year.

Massey stayed on McMurray's heels as they defeated Latin Quarter, 16-5, scoring 11 runs in the first inning. Mike Handlon led the 22-hit attack with two singles and two doubles, good for four RBIs.

Smith Realty blasted winless Perlongo, 18-1, as Jim Barnes had three hits, including 2-home-runs, and Pete Styles also had three hits with one four-bagger.

In the Women's League, the week ended with three teams tied for first place as Moeller lost to Mobil Lounge, 8-7 and Meijer's walloped winless College Park, 26-9. Mobil Lounge scored the winning run in the 7th inning as Dianne Merritt and Kathy Hibler singled, and Rita Spaulding hit a sacrifice fly to score Merritt. Meijer's had no trouble with College Park in the second game.

Meijer's used everyone on their bench and still belted out 21 hits against the hapless College Park team, which has yet to get untracked this year.

This week sees five full nights of action in the Canton Slow Pitch Softball League at the Canton Center and Cherry Hill fields.

Town and Country rips Hospital, 25-5

Rolling behind a 21-hit attack, Town and Country Dodge blasted Wayne County General Hospital, 25-5, recently in a Westland Parks and Recreation Department Women's League slowpitch softball game.

In other games, Midas Muffler upset Studio Lounge, 5-4; Hudson's Westland defeated the Innates, 8-3, and Lynn's Country Bar dumped Johnny's Shell, 8-4.

Second basemen Peggy McMahon, of Town and Country, was the hitting show as she drilled five hits, including a triple and home run, scored five runs and drove in seven. Winning Pitcher Linda Dominiak gave up only four hits.

In Midas' victory Catcher Mariane Warren rapped out three hits and drove in four runs to pace her team. Midas pushed across the tying and winning runs in the sixth on four straight hits. Studio stranded two runners in the seventh as a fly out ended its bid for a win.

Elaine Golden, of Hudson's, gave the Innates only five hits as her team rolled to a big win. Carrie Metzger, who plays third base, led the attack with three singles.

In another contest, also regarded as an upset, Vicki Marshall led Lynn's Country Store with four hits. But the big blast was a three-run homer by Becky Comeau in the sixth that salted the game away. Dawn LeLonde's triple in the third inning scored two runners and opened up the scoring for the victors.

Buzz buzzes Bullets, 22-8

Buzz Troop pounded out 25 hits and scored 22 runs as it demolished the Silver Bar Bullets, 22-8, in one of four games played recently in the Men's Major Slowpitch Softball League sponsored by the Westland Department of Parks and Recreation.

In other action, Feister Oil and Auto blasted out 25 hits on its way to a 14-2 lacing of the Dirty Dozen; Westland Sport Shop ran up 22 hits in defeating Studio Lounge, 19-3, and Glass Crutch Lounge edged Owl's Nest Restaurant, 6-5.

Leftwich and Nael led Buzz Troop's lopsided win with four and three hits, respectively, while D. Moyle, with four safeties, and R. Moyle and M. Koss, with three apiece, accounted for 10 of the Silver Bullets' 15 hits. Winning pitcher was R. Phillips.

Feister's J. May rapped out four singles and a double to lead his team. He was backed up by R. Feister's four hits, including a homer. The latter also drove in three runs. R. Taylor was the winning pitcher.

Westland Sport Shop parlayed Saylor's four hits, and three each by Jack Westerland and Bob Killingbeck to its overwhelming victory over Studio Lounge. The winning pitcher was Tony Pilarski.

Selecting and Storing Strawberries

Shop for fully ripened, bright red strawberries. They do not ripen after being picked.

Choose berries that are plump and well rounded, with a natural shine, rich red color and bright green, fresh looking caps.

Use strawberries as soon after purchase as possible to insure the most delectable flavor and appearance and highest nutritional value.

Remove berries from their containers and arrange them in a single layer on a cookie sheet or other shallow container for refrigeration. Cool refrigerator temperatures will help keep the berries fresh and bright for several days.

Never wash strawberries or remove caps until just before using. Washing removes the natural protective outer layer. The caps protect the strawberries and help preserve flavor, texture and nutrients.

Handling Tips:

Strawberries are delicate and require the gentlest of handling. To wash, place berries in a colander or large strainer and rinse with a gentle spray of cool water.

Never remove caps before washing strawberries. Caps prevent water from soaking into the strawberries, diluting the flavor and changing the texture.

Pat strawberries dry with paper towels before serving.
